GIGANTIC BATTLE IN CENTRAL SECTION IS REPORTED BY RUSSIA

Moscow Communique Declares That Within Ten Days Rumanians Beseiging Odessa Have Left More Than 20,000 Dead Men in Approaches to Black Sea Port; Fifty Villages Are Reclaimed

BERLIN STILL INSISTS LENINGRAD ENCIRCLED

Moscow, Sept. 9—(AP)—The Soviet armies of the central front today were pursuing the broken remnants of a German force of 100,000 men back westward toward Smolensk, having thrust the Nazis back 16 miles in two days and recaptured 150 square miles of territory and 50 villages in a gigantic continuing battle, official dispatches reported.

A communique reported that within ten days the Rumanians besieging Odessa have left more than 20,000 dead men in the approaches to that Black Sea port as the Red navy leads a dail ysortie against the Germans' allies.

It was the big counter-thrust on the central front, however, that shone as the rosiest star on the Soviet horizon.

A government communique said eight Nazi divisions were cut to pieces in a fierce counter-offensive which began 26 days ago and reached its climax with recapture of the railway town of Yelnya, 200 miles southwest of Moscow and 40 miles east of Smolensk.

Tens of thousands of unburied German dead lay where they had fallen, and there were equal numbers of wounded who were carried westward by their comrades, the dispatch said.

The artillery of the Red army is now pounding the Germans' backs a good 13 miles or more west of Yelnya, Pravda concluded.

Military observers expressed belief the success might relieve pressure on Leningrad, compelling the Nazis to withdraw some troops from that northern sector to save their sagging lines in the center.

The victory was the greatest claimed by the Russians since the start of the war, now in its 12th week, and military observers expressed belief the success might relieve pressure on Leningrad by compelling the Germans to withdraw some troops from that sector in order to bolster sagging lines on the central front.

All reports from the front pictured the Leningrad civilian population as fighting side by side with Red soldiers and contesting every foot of ground with the Nazi invaders.

Greater Help From United States Navy Plea of Churchill

By the Associated Press

London, Sept. 8—Prime Minister Churchill in a sweeping review of the war today expressed the wish for "greater help" from the American navy and warned that Adolf Hitler may come to "close quarters" with the United States and turn the whole Atlantic into one vast war zone.

Addressing the House of Commons, assembled for the first time since Aug. 6, Churchill declared bluntly that the battle of the Atlantic was not yet won.

An implication that both Britain and the United States were ready for Atlantic eventualities was in his statement that "strong British and United States forces" in Iceland now include "some very considerable United States and British naval and air forces."

The prime minister gave the British people a somewhat cheering picture of the battle of the seas, with a sudden increase in British successes in the past two months, but he made it plain that there was a long fight ahead.

Churchill made only a passing reference to Spitzbergen, Norwegian Arctic archipelago which Allied forces have raided to prevent its coal from going to Germany, but mention of the action brought loud cheers.

Some members of Commons were disappointed that there were no further disclosures regarding the dashing expedition of Spitzbergen, announced only yesterday.

Churchill told a cheering house: "The Germans are much hampered on the American part of the Atlantic by fear of trouble with the powerful American naval force which ceaselessly patrol the approaches to the western hemisphere. This has been a help to us but I wish it might be a greater help."

Churchill asserted that he and President Roosevelt reached "highly important decisions" in their historic Atlantic conference regarding help for Russia and "the policy to be pursued" to check Japan and prevent spread of war to the Pacific.

Churchill won the loudest cheer when he declared that the "magnificent resistance" of the Russian armies had cost the Germans more blood in the last three months than Germany lost in any single year of the first World War. Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky was in the gallery.

He got another big cheer when he demanded the surrender of all Axis nationals in Iran to protect the supply route to Russia.

MAYOR DIES

Coatesville, Sept. 9—(AP)—Mayor Albert R. Bergstrom, 48, died early today from high blood pressure and complications resulting from a kidney ailment. Bergstrom was serving his second term as mayor. He had been in failing health for a year. Last Friday, he was brought unconscious to the Coatesville hospital and never regained consciousness.

GAS RATIONING SHOWS RESULTS

Washington, Sept. 9—(AP)—Acting Petroleum Coordinator Ralph K. Davies testified today that some curtailment of gasoline purchasing on the eastern seaboard must continue through the winter.

At the same time, Davies told a special Senate committee investigating petroleum shortages that construction of a vast pipeline from southwestern oil fields to the northeast was "just as vital as warships and planes."

Asserting that serious "mistakes" had been made in estimating supplies of aluminum and steel needed for defense, Davies declared that as serious as these were "they do not approach the havoc and catastrophe which will overwhelm us immediately if we go wrong on oil."

Unless present restrictions of gasoline were maintained, Davies said there was "prospect of disastrous shortages of fuel for industry and homes this winter."

RESTS IN CHURCH YARD

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 9—(AP)—The somber, comforting words of the Episcopal burial service sound a solemn requiem today for Sara Delano Roosevelt, mother of the president.

On a final, familiar journey, the chief executive accompanies her down the maple-shaded driveway of the estate to which she came as a bride 61 years ago and along the usually bustling Albany post road to weathered St. James church, where they had worshipped together so many times.

In the church-yard, behind the gray, stone edifice, a final resting place awaited her among other Roosevelts who had preceded her in death.

With her distinguished son beside her bed, Mrs. Roosevelt died Sunday at the family home after a circulatory collapse brought on by her advanced age. She was nearly 87.

BRITISH SEIZE RICH COAL MINES IN SPITSBERGEN

By the Associated Press

London, Sept. 9—Alleged German plans for seizure of the rich coal mines of Spitzbergen, Arctic archipelago owned by Nazi-occupied Norway, were declared officially today to have bene thwarted bloodlessly by a powerful Canadian, British and Free Norwegian expeditionary force in a full-dress invasion which the natives welcomed.

"This source of fuel has now been denied to the Germans, the British war office said, without reporting whether the mines simply were left under guard or their usefulness destroyed.

They have been worked primarily by Norwegian and Russian labor.

Civilians helped the soldiers unload their craft of munitions and supplies.

British ships, removed about 1,000 Norwegians—miners and their families—to England, where the men signed up for military or merchant marine service. It thus was indicated that at least some of the mines, which produced 707,117 tons of coal in 1936, would be out of operation for the duration of the war.

Spitzbergen's two radio stations were seized.

Berlin, Sept. 9—(AP)—German reaction to the British-Canadian-Norwegian landing on Spitzbergen, described the expedition as "a typical prestige move."

Authorized Germans said "it obviously was aimed at stiffening

LEVELING OFF IN POLIO CASES IS ANNOUNCED

Sixty-Six Cases Reported in State Last Week as Compared With 65 the Week Before and 80 Three Weeks Ago

READJUST SCHEDULES

Harrisburg, Sept. 9—(AP)—A leveling off in the outbreak of infantile paralysis which has attacked more than 300 Pennsylvanians and caused 25 deaths so far this year was announced today by the Department of Health.

"Numerically, the infantile paralysis situation in the state has leveled off, being no worse and no better this week than last week," declared Dr. J. Moore Campbell, director of the Bureau of Health Conservation, who said the department is making an "exhaustive survey" of the situation.

He explained that 66 new cases were reported officially last week as compared with 65 the week before and 80 three weeks ago.

Meanwhile, York county recorded its 90th case of the disease. The latest victim, an 18-month-old boy was reported by hospital attendants to be in serious condition.

The school board at Chester last night ordered all schools in the city closed until Sept. 24, as two cases of paralysis were discovered there. Those afflicted were four-year-old Charles Bryant and Mrs. Catherine Powers, 17.

The outbreak has delayed public school openings in at least 11 counties until September 15, or later, and has caused numerous Pennsylvania colleges to readjust football schedules to meet late openings.

WINTER STILL GRIPS COLORADO

Denver, Sept. 9—(AP)—Rocky mountain westerners poked more fuel into their furnaces today and went to work in overcoats after winter made a surprise feint from Canada to Colorado.

Additional coal trucks were called for and heating companies sent men scurrying to thousands of homes to turn on oil and gas burners.

Wayfarers in two states encountered harrowing experiences when a widespread snowstorm overtook them and temperatures dropped near or below freezing.

Several mountain passes were closed by the snow, which ranged to a foot in depth in Wyoming, but were reopened today in most cases. The lowest city temperature, 29 degrees, was reported from two-mile-high Leadville, Colo. At the summit of Pikes Peak it was nine above zero.

Four tourists from the warmer eastern United States were among six persons who were rescued from the grip of the storm yesterday.

FACTIONS FIGHT FOR CONTROL

A VERY LIGHT VOTE IS INDICATED BY REPORTS

By the Associated Press

Philadelphia, Sept. 9—Pennsylvania's voters evinced little interest during the early polling hours today in the state's 1941 primary contest, although hot factional fights in several sections promised to bring out sizable balloting.

With only two state-wide offices at stake—justice of the Supreme Court and Judge of the Superior Court—most of the political spotlight was focused on Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, where groups engaged in battles for party control.

The weather was that of a perfect September day. Heavy rains in the Philadelphia area slackened before the polls opened at 7 a. m. (E. S. T.). They close at 8 p. m.

BOARD A. W. O. L.

Philadelphia, Sept. 9—(AP)—Nine members of three election boards just failed to show up today when the pons opened for the 1941 primary. After waiting a half-hour or so, a handful of voters held a curbstone meeting and named new boards, sworn in by a representative of the county board of elections. Friends said they presumed the absentees felt they couldn't be spared from their regular jobs on defense contracts.

Today's vote was expected to have considerable bearing on next year's important gubernatorial campaign. In Philadelphia, William J. Hamilton, Jr., discharged state secretary of revenue who is leader of a faction seeking the ouster of the regular city organization predicted victory.

The Philadelphia squabble centered around three of the four city-county offices, and City Chairman David Harris, leader of the regular organization, likewise asserted he was confident of vic-

Lock Haven, Sept. 9—(AP)—Waiving preliminary hearing, Roy Kenneth Houck, 21, charged with assaulting two Lock Haven girls, was held in Clinton county jail today to await an October trial.

Said by Major Charles C. Keller of the state police to have admitted the two attacks along with six others in Centre county, Houck declined to enter a plea upon arraignment yesterday but authorities pointed out the former orchestra leader could still enter one before court opens the third week in October. Centre county officials have agreed, they said, to allow the Clinton county prosecution first.

Houck was charged with aggravated assault and battery, assault with intent to maim, and assault with intent to kill in the attack

THREE YANKEE FLIERS ARE REPORTED MISSING

By the Associated Press

Three fliers of the American eagle squadron are missing from operations Sunday over German-occupied France, an American source said today.

The fliers: Eugene Quimby ("Red") Tobin of Los Angeles; H. S. Fenlaw of Lewisville, Tex.; and William H. Nichols of San Carlos, Calif.

Tobin, big and red-haired, was reported to have been the first flier from the United States to shoot down a German plane over Britain.

KEEN INTEREST IN ADDRESS OF CHIEF EXECUTIVE

Conviction Grows in Washington That President in Talk to Nation Will Announce Policy to Meet Force With Force on High Seas

ICELAND IN SPOTLIGHT

By W. B. ARDERY

Washington, Sept. 9—(AP)—The conviction grew in informed quarters here today that President Roosevelt in his address to the nation Thursday night would announce that henceforth the policy of the United States would be to meet force with force on the high seas.

This belief was immeasurably strengthened by the latest incident in the sea war to touch this country's interests—the sinking of the American merchantman Steel Seafarer in the Red Sea by a bombing plane.

Although no one professed to know precisely what the chief executive would say, one informant, asking anonymity, declared he thought it safe to predict that the president would make these three points:

1. Germany and the world must know that this nation intends to keep open its communications with Iceland;

2. The appearance of any hostile vessel or aircraft in the area between United States and Iceland would be regarded as an effort to interfere with American communications.

3. American naval units would be ordered to open fire on any hostile ships or planes encountered thereafter in the waters between this country and Iceland.

This informant, who based his

PRICE OF MILK IS TAKING JUMP

Harrisburg, Sept. 9—(AP)—Consumers in more than 40 Pennsylvania counties will pay one cent more for each quart of milk delivered on their doorsteps, effective September 16, the Milk Control Commission announced.

The increase raises from 12 to 13 cents a quart the price of milk for area 13—Williamsport-Sayre-Athens district—and from 11 to 12 cents for the so-called state wide district which covers nearly two-thirds of the state but only 16 per cent of the population.

The new area 11 order raises the price of class 1 milk to the producers 25 cents a hundredweight on the basis of 4 per cent butterfat milk; 10 cents a hundredweight for class 1A; 20 cents a hundredweight for class 2 and 5 cents a hundredweight for class 3.

Area 13 increases are 27 a hundredweight for class 1A and class 2, and 5 cents for class 3.

Doorstep milk prices in most eastern markets are now 14 and 15 cents a quart, the commission said.

LESS THAN 1,000 BALLOTS CAST IN BORO AT NOON

With But One County Contest to Be Settled Citizens Are Slow in Going to Polls, Indicating Unusually Mild Interest

COMPARATIVE FIGURES

With but one county contest to stir up interest, voters in Warren borough today were slow in going to the polls, indicating that previous predictions of a light vote would prove accurate.

Between one and one-thirty o'clock this afternoon, a check-up at the eight polling places in the borough disclosed that only 937 persons had cast ballots during the first five hours of voting.

This total was nearly 250 less than at the same time four years ago when 1,182 persons had voted by 1:30. However, the 1937 primary had three county contests to attract the attention of the voters.

In 1933 the total at 1:30 was only 637, exactly 300 less than today's figure.

As usual, the fifth ward was the leader in the borough with 275 votes, while the first and sixth wards came next with 124 and 103, respectively. In the first and fifth wards, council contests helped to bring out the vote.

With 7,664 Republicans and Democrats registered in Warren borough, the number who had voted at 1:30 today was only a little over 12 percent of the total.

The polls throughout the county will remain open until nine o'clock tonight, daylight saving time. The official hours of voting are from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m., standard time, or 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. daylight saving time.

FRITZ WIEDEMANN IS IN SOUTH AMERICA

Rio De Janeiro, Sept. 9—(AP)—Less than two months after he was expelled from the United States with other Axis consular officials, Capt. Fritz Wiedemann is in South America on what he describes as "a special mission."

The former German consul-general at San Francisco arrived here last Friday aboard an Italian transAtlantic Lati passenger plane, it was disclosed yesterday. He said he would fly to Buenos Aires Wednesday.

Wiedemann, a close friend of Adolf Hitler, was among 500 Germans and Italians who sailed from New York for Libson aboard the U. S. navy transport West Point July 15 in an exchange of United States and Axis consular officials and their families.

WILLKIE SCORES SENATOR NYE AT MOVIE HEARING

Washington, Sept. 9—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie charged today, at the opening of a Senate committee inquiry into war propaganda, that Senator Nye (-ND) was seeking to "divide the American people into discordant racial and religous kroups in order to disunte them over the United States foreign policy."

Willkie, representing the motion picture industry at the hearing, made these charges in a formal statement handed to the press shortly after Nye began testifying on a resolution, by Nye and Senator Clark (D-Mo), proposing an investigation into propaganda.

Nye, appearing under oath after Chairman Clark (D-Idaho) had ruled that Willkie could not cross examine witnesses, asserted that four or five movie magnates held the power to feed propaganda to the American people.

The North Dakota senator, first witness at the hearing conducted by an Interstate Commerce subcommittee, contended that several films already have been released which "have served to drive some Americans under their very beds for fear of Hitler and his minions."

Denied the right to interrupt, Willkie passed reporters sitting nearby a mimeographed statement by way of reply to testimony given by Nye in a lengthy prepared statement the North Dakota senator was reading.

Willkie charged that Nye desired "to foster and create public prejudices against the motion picture industry, and thus attempt to high

HEIGHTENS CRISIS IN RELATIONS

Attack on Unarmed Merchantman in Red Sea, Considered Lease - Lend Route to the Middle East, Intensifies Breach Between the United States and Axis Powers on the Issue of Freedom of the Seas

SURVIVORS LAND ON WEST COAST OF SUEZ

BULLETIN

Berlin, Sept. 9—(AP)—The German High Command today said the Nazi air force in a Sunday night raid on "enemy ships in the gulf and roadstead of Suez" destroyed a 7,000-ton tanker and badly damaged five large merchantmen. There was no indication whether the ship which was sunk was the American vessel, Steel Seafarer, but authorized quarters said news of the sinking of an American ship in those waters should occasion no surprise since the area has been declared dangerous war zone by the Axis.

Washington, Sept. 9—(AP)—The State Department reported today that 24 crew members, including one American, were "presumably lost" in the torpedoing of a former Danish ship flying the Pan-American flag August 17 about 300 miles southwest of Iceland. News of the sinking, in which only three men aboard survived, came close on the heels of the sinking of the American freighter Steel Seafarer in Red Sea waters by an aerial bomb. British sources at Cairo blamed a German bomber based in Greece.

Cairo, Sept. 9—(AP)—The survivors of the American merchant steamer, Steel Seafarer, sunk in the Red Sea, were landed today on the western coast of the Gulf of Suez.

They had been picked up by a British warship. All aboard were saved.

Reliable British sources said a long-range German bomber operating from Greece sank the vessel.

The survivors were landed on the coast between the oil port of Hurghada and Dishet El Tabaa.

The Seafarer was attacked and sunk about midnight Sunday some 200 miles south of Suez.

Alerts were sounded the same night in northern Egypt but no bombs were dropped on Egyptian soil.

In the bright moonlight, the merchantman probably was an easy target.

The Steel Seafarer was the second ship attacked in the Red Sea by Axis aircraft. The first attack was made some days ago south of Suez but reliable sources said the bombed ship escaped untouched.

Washington, Sept. 9—(AP)—The sinking of an unarmed American merchantman in the Red Sea—lease-lend route to the Middle East—intensified the crisis in relations between the United States and the Axis powers today on the issue of freedom of the seas.

S. & T. APPEALS VIEWERS' AWARD

Pittsburgh, Sept. 9—(AP)—Attorneys for the Sheffield and Tionesta Railway Company today filed an appeal against an award of $106,000 as damages for 12.47 miles of railway right of way condemned by the government for a flood control project.

The company, which operates 33.5 miles of track between Sheffield, Warren county, to Nabraska, Forest county, contended that the award, made by viewers Aug. 14, was "grossly inadequate" and claimed damages of $200,000.

The 12.47 miles of right of way which extends from Nebraska to a point two miles south of Mayburg, Forest county, was condemned by the government last December 4, for the Tionesta creek reservoir.

Federal Judge Nelson McVicar granted the company's request for a trial by jury and ordered the government to answer the complaint within 20 days.

Flight Training Is Completed By C. P. T. Students; Enjoy Dinner

Floating Forts

Two types of barrage balloons float above Camp Davis, N. C., where Army tests are underway to determine efficiency of big gas bags as defenders against bombers.

Flight training has been completed by the fourteen members of the last Civilian Pilot Training Class at the Warren Airport and all passed their flight tests with excellent grades, it was reported today.

The event was celebrated with a dinner at the Pittsfield Inn last Saturday night, given by the students for the instructors. Those present were Jim Miller, Harold Johnson, Ned Perry, Jess Perry, Harry Green, Robert Branstrom, Robert Lesser, John Cogswell, Burdette McCool, Mr. and Mrs. V. S. King, Mr. and Mrs. Henry O. Walker.

Jim Miller presented Mrs. Walker with "Safety in Flight" by Jordanoff and Mr. King a cigarette lighter as remembrances from the students to the instructors. All reported an excellent time.

About thirty planes landed at the Warren Airport last Sunday, enroute to and from the breakfast at Jamestown. This same idea is to be carried out in Warren next Sunday in conjunction with the Retailers-for-Defense week of the local Chamber of Commerce. Favorable weather is hoped for, as much time and work is being spent to make the affair a success.

It is not too soon to be thinking of signing up for the next C. P. T. ground school, which should begin in January. This primary training received at the Warren Airport is the first step toward the airlines, the army or navy air corps, or life as an instructor.

Several local boys are taking advanced training. Bud Maier is now at Camden, S. C., taking the refresher course for the army. He will soon be instructing a group of English boys. Lloyd Porter has had his secondary training and is waiting for assignment to the army air corps.

Of the last class, Bob Lesser and Robert Branstrom have been accepted for secondary training under the college phase and will receive their training at Meadville. In secondary training the boys fly army primary training ships, Waco or Stearman. Three or four more of the flight class will be recommended for advanced training under the non-college phase and those boys will receive 17 weeks at Uniontown, where they will finish with a commercial license and an instructor's rating.

"This morning generous contributions came from Metzger-Wright Company, Community Consumer Discount Company, and Postmaster J. K. Bell. If every one who takes pride in putting Warren's best foot forward will contribute, these visitors will carry home favorable publicity for our community."

Factions Fight For Control

tory.

The Philadelphia voting opened spotty, with some election officials reporting no ballots cast during the first hours.

At Pittsburgh—which with Philadelphia holds one-third of the state's eligible 4,709,168 voters—the balloting also started off slowly. Both Democratic and Republican organizations there clashed over candidates for mayor.

No election disturbances were reported throughout the state.

Candidates were nominated for 65 places on the county judiciary and 96 communities in 35 counties voted on the question of permitting the retail sale of liquor and beer. In addition to Pittsburgh, Scranton and 20 third class cities selected candidates for mayor.

The Philadelphia and Pittsburgh fights for control of the party machinery had their parallel in some degree in other areas, but statewide interest centered in the metropolitan contests because of the concentration of voters in those two districts.

Pittsburgh Democrats were called upon to pass upon the leadership of David A. Lawrence, national committeeman and former state chairman in the mayoralty fight there. Lawrence supported Mayor Cornelius D. Scully for re-election with Register of Wills John M. Huston opposing Scully's bid for the Democratic nomination.

The organization-control issue was even more closely drawn on the Republican side, with State Chairman James F. Torrance placing the state organization behind County Chairman John S. Heddon.

The Republican contest also found James M. Duff, state committee member, and James F. Malone, Jr., nominee for state treasurer last year, in opposite camps.

Herron and Duff supported George D. Wick for mayor while Malone got behind Harmar Denny, Jr., one-time Pittsburgh public safety director.

Torrance, as the campaign drew to a close, promised Herron "the fullest possible assistance" from the state organization. U. S. Senator James J. Davis also entered the Herron camp, taking the stump for Robert J. Corbett, seeking the nomination for sheriff on the Herron-Duff slate. Cohbett is manager of the senator's Pittsburgh office.

Senator Davis, however, in Philadelphia declared for the insurgent group, led by William J. Hamilton, Jr., former state secretary of revenue. Senator Davis in a declaration for the Hamilton candidates, said he favored an open primary because it develops leadership and "prevents dangerous concentration of power."

Throughout the primary campaign, P. Stephen Stahlnecker, head of a movement to reorganize the Republican state leadership, remained in the background. Stahlnecker, prominent in Republican politics for years, resigned a $9,000 state job during the summer to organize the movement. While Stahlnecker visited many sections of the state he said his group was looking ahead exclusively to next year and was not participating in this year's campaign.

Gas Rationing Shows Results

DELEGATES HERE AT CONFERENCE OF MTHODISTS

Among the 500 ministerial and lay delegates expected to be in attendance for the third annual session of the Methodist Erie Conference at Allegheny College in Meadville this week are a number representing churches of that denomination in Warren.

Named from First church are Dr. T. E. Colley, pastor; Alan H. Templeton, delegate; E. W. Smiley, alternate. Dr. J. H. Clemens, pastor of Grace church, reports that Roy M. Krebs is delegate and Lewis W. Garber, alternate. At Epworth church, Rev. M. I. Harding's delegate is John Anderson, with Bert Woodruff as alternate. Others of the various congregations will also attend certain of the sessions.

Warren is particularly interested in this year's conference, since it is anticipated that Dr. Clemens' retirement will take place and that Grace church will have a new pastor. The popular pastor has purchased a home at 200 McPherson street and will continue to make his home in Warren.

It is also expected that Dr. H. H. Barr, of Kane, will retire this fall and will come to Warren to reside at 13 Hertzel street. Since leaving Grace church here, Dr. Barr has served in Titusville, Grove City, Franklin, a six-year term as superintendent of the Jamestown District and residence in that city and, most recently, the Kane church.

Others who are expected to retire at this conference session are Rev. S. H. Barlett, of Parkers Landing, who once served Kinzua and Corydon charges; Dr. J. A. Lyons, of DuBois, who was at Youngsville from 1915 to 1920; and Dr. F. H. Frampton, of Chicora, who was at Byromtown in 1899 and at Ashville, N. Y., from 1912 to 1914.

The conference opened this afternoon at three o'clock with a meeting of the board of ministerial training and, at 7:30 o'clock this evening, there will be a session for conference boards and commissions. The conference proper, presided over by Bishop James H. Straughn, of Pittsburgh, will get under way tomorrow morning and will continue through next Sunday, when appointments will be read. Those planning to attend the sessions are reminded that all are on eastern standard time.

Meadville, Sept. 9.—(AP)—The six-day annual conference of the Erie district, Methodist church, opened today with ministers and lay delegates, representing 400 churches and congregations of 200,000 members, in attendance.

Headquarters were established at Allegheny College, acting as co-host with Meadville's three Methodist churches. Bishop James H. Straughn of Pittsburgh, was the presiding officer.

The conference extends from the Ohio state line to the vicinity of Kane, Ridgway and DuBois, and from the lake shore in western New York to the Mahoning creek near New Castle.

The Rev. G. Ray Jordan, of Charlotte, N. C.; will speak at a meeting of the Itinerants' Club, whose members are ordained ministers, and Dr. Schuyler Garth, of Youngstown, O., will address a youth conference on Saturday.

With Our Boys In Virginia

Fredericksburg, Va., Sept. 9.—(AP)—The old 28th Division of World War days cannot have any reason to be ashamed of its 1941 counterpart, Acting Commander Edward J. Stackpole, Jr., declared after Pennsylvania's troops joined in repelling a theoretical enemy advancing against Washington, D. C.

The 28th's first field exercise in which the complete division has engaged showed "certain weaknesses of which everyone was aware," said General Stackpole, "but it also demonstrated that the division as a whole and its component parts is capable of functioning smoothly and efficiently."

He spoke for Major General Edward Martin who was attending a meeting of division commanders of the Second Army at Governor's Island, N. Y. General Martin was expected to resume command today as the division took up a new problem lasting until Thursday morning and the last field exercise of the 28th before it returns to its home base at Indiantown Gap.

The division's maneuvers yesterday which drew commendation from General Stockpole involved defense of the left flank of the Second Army against which position the invading green army theoretically was exerting great pressure. The Pennsylvania troops started out with a defensive position along a four-mile front.

Another division of the Second Army, stationed in theory to the right of the 28th, was driven back by two enemy divisions. A division of invaders then launched an attack against the 28th, which put all units of the 53rd Field Artillery brigade into action and held two infantry regiments in reserve.

The first battalion of the 109th Infantry was called upon to make counter attacks to prevent envelopment of the 28th's left flank by the enemy, but heavy pressure along the central front of the 56th Brigade forced the 28th back in the center.

Six airplanes of the 103rd Observation Squadron took part in the maneuvers, serving artillery missions and simulating dive bombing. A provisional battalion of the 71st anti-aircraft artillery of Fort Story, Va., also joined in working out the problem.

OMINOUS SIGNS!

Americans should keep their eyes on Iceland for there, more than at any other spot, is likely to occur The event that will plunge us into a shooting war with Hitler.

It was not long ago a German bomber suddenly appeared over the island, and last week an American destroyer enroute to Iceland had an encounter with a Nazi submarine.

When the bomber appeared over Iceland British planes took to the air and the German airmen lost themselves in the clouds. But suppose a German warplane appears some day after the British have departed and only Americans are guarding the island? Will the U. S. flyers go after the visitor? If they do, will they fire on him?

On the action our air corps takes at such a time as that may depend on whether we enter the fray. Or, is Hitler anxious to avoid a brush with the United States as to keep his planes away from Iceland, and his subs away from our destroyers, after we start to keep watch without the aid of Britain?

At any rate, war experts are watching Iceland. Headline news is apt to come from that frozen waste one of these days, news that will affect the lives of everyone in United States for years to come.

News of the sinking of the American freighter Steel Seafarer as given out in Washington last evening does not make the situation look any brighter.

In the absence of more specific information, the assumption is that she was a lease-lend cargo vessel, since all American ships plying the Red Sea route carry lease-lend shipments, and her attacker was a long-range German or Italian bomber operating from a Mediterranean base.

It will be recalled that on April 11 President Roosevelt opened the Red Sea to American shipping by cancelling the combat zone in the Indian Ocean which had blocked its approaches until the British campaign which swept the Italians from the adjoining east coast of Africa. At the time, Mr. Roosevelt indicated that, if necessary, vessels plying that route would get armed protection, because that was the law of the United States when ships were not operating in combat zones.

A month later, May 13, Germany formally proclaimed the northern part of the Red Sea an official war zone, where every ship "exposed itself to destruction by mines or other weapons of war."

The attack, Washington sources assert, might be found to constitute "piracy" as defined by Mr. Roosevelt in his message to congress denouncing German tactics in torpedoing the American flag ship Robin Moor in the South Atlantic May 21.

These latest "incidents" add new significance to the address that the chief executive is scheduled to deliver Thursday evening.

NO TIME TO BECOME EXCITED

The fact that infantile paralysis nas been discovered in the county is no justification for any person to become unduly alarmed. Every precaution is being taken by health officials, so far as possible, to segregate the patient, and there is no reason to fear a general outbreak.

One example of what a mild hysteria will do is seen in the fact that rumors, which were without any foundation whatever, spread this morning to the effect that a new case had been quarantined by the local county health officials.

The situation, however, does justify the exercise of just a little more than ordinary caution, especially where children are concerned. Keep them in the open as much as possible, and at the first sign of illness call a physician, no matter how slight the ailment may be.

If you don't buy that winter supply of coal before the prices soar sky high don't say we haven't warned you plenty.

If you haven't voted when you read this you'll have time if you duck out to the polling place and get there before nine o'clock.

Around New York

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—It's like this:

The gin rummy craze on Broadway has spread even to the juvenile actors over at "Watch on the Rhine," which indicates just how simple an indoor sport it really is . . . George Coulouris of that show says, "If they play it in Hollywood it has to be simple."

R. Howard Lindsay and just plain Howard Lindsay are in no sense related—they never have even shaken hands—though both are past masters of the art of cuning whodunit thrillers . . . R. Howard Lindsay is the author of that blood-curdler "Fowl Murder," published by Little Brown and Company. Just plain Howard Lindsay is co-producer of "Arsenic and Old Lace."

We've come to Paul Lukas now. More than once this corner has talked about the fine piece of acting he does in that fine piece of stage writing, "Watch on the Rhine" . . . But I never knew until the other day how Herman Shumlin came to cast him as the star . . . That wasn't Shumlin's original intention at all . . . He went out to Hollywood to interview Lukas and ask him to play the heavy . . . "Heavy hell," cried Shumlin five minutes after he had shaken hands with Lukas, "you're the star."

A FRIEND of mine took the train recently at Darien, Conn. But a drawbridge was stuck somewhere up the line, and the train was more than an hour late, and my friend decided to explore the platform.

Boris Karloff was sitting there in a tan gaberdine suit reading, his face almost mahogany, his hair peculiarly straight and rather dead looking. Disconcertingly, he looked just the same on the station platform as he had in "Arsenic and Old Lace," my friend decided, and put him out of his mind.

Almost. In a minute he noticed a strange stillness on the platform. Children who normally would have been shinnying up the nearest pole were quiet. Women who normally would have been gabbing were silent. Men who looked to be over-stuffed with smoking car stories stalked eerily about, smoking too much. Even the sparrows held their tongues.

Then my friend looked again at Karloff. He was still there, still reading, the same leg crossed over its mate. For an hour he moved only once; that was to look up the track where there was no train. His face showed no annoyance, no interest, nothing. He said nothing. He sat.

This hush was not the result of seeing a celebrity. Darien is full of celebrities. My friend thought for a while, and then the answer came to him, quick like a fox.

This was merely Boris Karloff's living. He is Karloff, and he throws a lovely, non-rustling pall even off-stage, and he collects a nice regular paycheck. But it was pretty quiet.

Graf Zeppelin Shown In Paraguayan Stamp

GERMANY'S famous Graf Zeppelin is honored by Paraguay in the 1933 stamp above. One of the Zeppelin series, it shows the airship flying over Paraguayan terrain.

The Graf Zeppelin was decommissioned in 1937 after her sister ship, the Hindenburg, blew up at Lakehurst, N. J. The Graf Zeppelin was placed in service in 1928, traveled over a million miles and crossed the Atlantic 143 times, mainly in commercial trips to and from South America.

Paraguay is one of the two inland countries of South America but has an excellent outlet to Buenos Aires through the Paraguay river. This river is navigable for vessels of 12-foot draft as far as Asuncion. Smaller boats can travel the entire length of the river—some 1800 miles.

Air mail and passenger services connect Asuncion and Buenos Aires, and the government has established an aviation school there.

A WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By Sigrid Arne
(Pinch-Hitting For Jack Stinnett)

WASHINGTON—There's quite a brawl brewing here over the oily subject of butter versus margarine.

It's no new brawl. The current fracas dates from spring, when a committee on food and nutrition met to devise new methods for feeding America better with the hope of making the citizens stronger. The problem is part of the defense program so far as Washington is concerned.

The committee issued, among other things, a sample day's diet which would furnish the necessary vitamins and minerals, and still would cost only 32 cents for the three meals. The menus—all three of them—mention margarine, but not butter.

That prompted the Consumers' Counsel of the Department of Agriculture to arrange one of its weekly radio programs for a discussion of margarine.

One of the characters on the program said: "Many people are finding out they can save quite a bit of money by using margarine instead of butter. It's quite a lot cheaper. . . .

"Both butter and margarine are chiefly fat. By law or government rules, both must be at least 80 percent fat. Butter is made from the fat from cream. And margarine, according to new standards just set up, can be made from animal fat or oil, or vegetable fat or oil, or a combination. . . .

"There's little to choose between the various kinds of pure fats. They are all, more or less, equally digestible, and equally rich in fuel value."

Propaganda, Says Andresen

THAT brought Rep. August H. Andresen of Minnesota to his feet on the House floor. His state, in 1940, earned $68,000,000 from butter.

Andresen spoke of the program as "government sponsored propaganda" and called it "virtually a conspiracy against the farmers."

He said the radio performers did their level best to put over the idea that oleomargarine, under the new formula promulgated by the food and drug administration, was equal if not superior to butter in food value, and added that "they boldly urged consumers to buy oleo instead of butter."

Andresen asserted that in the past decade he has seen much of "the subversive work of lavendar lawyers, pink economists, and mauve home economic ladies."

He demanded an investigation, and further, he wanted the Department of Agriculture to stop its employees from "scuttling of American dairy farmers."

The Other Side

REP. W. R. POAGE of Texas arose to remind his fellow members that there is another set of American farmers quite interested in the popularity of margarine—the men who supply the fats and oils, such as livestock men and soy-bean growers.

So the fat is in the fire, quite literally. A group of retailers are rattling around Washington asking that a tax on margarine be removed.

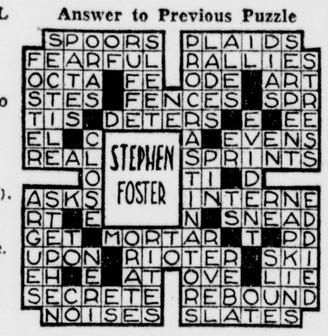

Don't be surprised if that margarine tax argument turns into a serious defense matter. That's the way these Washington brawls develop.

Resignation of Sixth Ward Council Member Accepted; Name Successor

At the September meeting of the Warren borough council, held last evening in the municipal building, the resignation of W. Herbert Murphy as one of the two representatives from the sixth ward was received and Carter H. Rowland, of Dartmouth street, was named as his successor.

Mr. Murphy, who has served less than half of his four-year term, resigned because he has accepted a position out of the city. Mr. Rowland was named to complete the unepired term, which ends on the first Monday in January, 1944.

The appointment was made upon recommendation of Mr. Murphy, the resolution being presented by George H. Klinestiver, second councilman from the ward.

Except for this matter, most of the business of the session, which was adjourned from the previous Monday because of Labor Day, was of a routine nature.

A resolution was adopted, leasing the Warren Airport to Virgil S. King for a period of two years. Previously the lease had been held by Warren Airways, Inc., which surrendered its lease. Mr. King is to pay the borough five percent of his gross receipts, plus $8.33 a month for use of the apartment over the hangar.

A resolution also was adopted, granting the Manufacturers Gas Company a right-of-way across the eastern end of the airport.

The new projects committee was authorized to purchase bituminous binder material for the Irvine street paving project at a cost of not more than $500 and bituminous top surface material at a cost not to exceed $500.

The public service and ordnance committee was granted permission to purchase two new six-inch hydrants at a cost not to exceed $200.

Upon resolution by Councilman Glenn Stone, it was decided to move a street light from the corner of Crescent Park and Onondaga avenue to the corner of Seneca and St. Clair streets.

It was reported by the finance committee that $7,225 had been received from the state as the return from liquor licenses in the borough. It was also decided to turn over to the Firemen's Relief Association the sum of $1,945.26, received from foreign fire insurance taxes to the state.

The matter of accepting Watson Place as a borough street was presented by Councilman Robert Trusler, but the matter was deferred until the next regular meeting.

Councilman E. W. Patchen presented the police report, showing the number of arrests during the month to be 56. He also reported that a total of $1,131.17 was received from parking meters during the month, of which $361.77 is to be paid to the company which installed the meters.

H. S. Hampson, of the fire committee, reported 16 calls during the month with a total fire loss of $125.

It was reported by Councilman W. R. Walsh that nine building permits were issued during the month, with $21.33 in fees received. Councilman Trusler reported $13.90 received from the borough scales. A report on attendance at the playgrounds during the summer was presented by Councilman Roy Krebs.

Bills amounting to $11,065.92 were ordered paid adn payment of $6,675 from the sinking fund was approved.

Councilmen present at the meeting included President F. W. Waite, R. M. Krebs, C. A. Miller, E. W. Patchen, G. P. Stone, D. L. Baldensperger, W. R. Walsh, D. W. Lewis, G. H. Klinestiver, H. S. Hampson, R. H. Trusler and J. G. Smith. Also present were Solicitor S. D. Blackman, Secretary Marjorie L. Dougherty, Engineer C. W. Barwis, Street Commissioner E. T. Beck and Fire Chief D. G. Kropf.

Dr. Robert E. Wilson, oil consultant to the National Defense Advisory Commission, has asked that minimum military stocks of 1,000,000 barrels of aviation fuel be accumulated, working up to a variable maximum of 10,000,000 to 20,000,000 barrels.

Great Saving in Defense Metals Being Made by Bell Telephone Co.

A saving of more than five million pounds of metals vital to defense needs, including enough aluminum to build more than 275 fighter planes, is being effected by the Bell System this year through a materials substitution program, H. O. McGrath, district manager for the telephone company, said today.

"Made possible through long range planning, research and readjustments in manufacturing," Mr. McGrath declared, "the substituting of materials in 1941 will divert for use in defense work nearly 1,700,000 pounds of aluminum; almost a third of a million pounds of nickel; well over three million pounds of zinc, and 8,300 pounds of magnesium." He foresees additional reductions for 1942.

The Western Electric Company, manufacturing arm of the system, now saves 65 tons of aluminum annually by replacing aluminum with steel in the "finger wheel" on dial telephones. This is only one of many items of telephone equipment in which aluminum is being replaced by other materials. The total saving of aluminum is enough to build more than 275 military planes other than bombers, or half as many bombers, in accordance with the estimate of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America that the average non-bomber requires three tons of aluminum and the average bomber six tons.

The use of zinc is being substantially reduced by coating much of the hardware used on telephone pole lines with lead, instead of putting these products through a galvanizing process. Also, less zinc is being used in the production of new telephones.

Since 1925, the Bell System has been studying how to make the most effective use of materials. Immediately after the outbreak of war in 1939, a survey was made of critical materials particularly used in the telephone system and efforts to determine suitable substitutes were initiated.

Because of the many factors involved in the introduction of substitutes—processing, engineering, materials and new procedures—the system will be faced with an inevitable rise in manufacturing costs as a direct result.

Efforts to conserve vital materials reach to all parts of the system. Telephone companies throughout the country are using much old equipment which might normally be replaced, so that new equipment may be used at other locations where the need is greater. Dial installations in some communities are being deferred, used switchboards are being reused, cables are being resheathed and reused.

Supplementing the Bell System's substitution and conservation program are the reclamation activities it has been carrying on since 1931, when the Nassau Smelting and Refining Company last year supplied the system with more than 42,000,000 pounds of metal. This was obtained chiefly from non-ferrous metals in outworn equipment, structures, and supplies junked by the operating telephone companies. The reclaimed metal included about 12,000,000 pounds of copper wire bar, more than 18,000,000 pounds of lead alloy for cable sheathing, some 2,000,000 pounds of lead sleeving for cable splices, over 5,000,000 pounds of bronze wire bar, some 500,000 pounds of brass billets, over 3,000,000 pounds of solder in various forms, and more than 373,000 pounds of redistilled slab zinc. This year's totals are expected to mount considerably higher

My! What a Day!

It takes more than a storm, steps and heckling to stop Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt from grabbing her skirts and making her appointed rounds—this time in Pittsburgh, where she talked with Democratic leaders, held a press conference, attended a luncheon, inspected an NYA center, dedicated a housing project, was honor guest at a tea and then made the main address at a "Youth in Democracy" rally. This picture was made as she rushed for shelter at the housing project.

Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Burt Vanord, of Russell; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shepard, of Erie; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Shepard and daughter, Ruth, of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rode and Eugene Rodgers spent the weekend and Labor Day with their mother, Mary Rodgers, and sons, Geo. and Clair.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Wilson are busy getting moved into the house recently vacated by Chester Howard.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rudoiph and family of West Hickory, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Littlefield and Phyllis, of Porkey, called at Kenneth Littlefield's Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Barton and family spent Sunday at Henrys Mills with the latter's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McCool and family.

BPW Members Hear Of Establishment of Air Warning Posts

Speaking at the first fall meeting of the Warren Business and Professional Women's Club, held last evening with dinner at 6:30 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A. activities building, Ben Kinnear and Melvin G. Keller gave an instructive talk on establishment of the aircraft warning service posts in Warren county and announced test of the system next week.

They outlined procedure for spotting these posts and manning of them by volunteers, together with the method of communication and type of information to be submitted by the observers.

Mr. Kinnear spoke, also, of the promotion of the Retailers-for-Defense Week and the invitation extended at Sunday's rendezvous of private fliers at Jamestown for visitors to come to the Warren airport next Sunday morning to open the observance.

In conclusion, both men answered questions put to them by the members and guests. The speakers were introduced by Miss Eunice Alexander, chairman of the evening's program.

During dinner, group singing was led by Mrs. Corinne Dean, with Miss Romaine Meacham at the piano. Miss Callie Mead, president, conducted the business meeting which followed the talks of Mr. Kinnear and Mr. Keller.

Mrs. Dean conducted a brief ceremonial to install Miss May-Belle Bairstow as recording secretary of the club, and routine reports of officers and committees were presented. Financial plans for the year as well as the membership project were considered and the president introduced several new members and guests present for the evening. Miss Ruth Karr outlined the year's program on "Strengthening Democracy for Defense" and stressed its importance.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to working on afghans and sewing for the Red Cross Chapter.

TRAIN HITS TIE

Bristol, Pa., Sept. 9—(AP)—The engineers of a Pennsylvania Railroad local passenger train enroute to Philadelphia told police he saw a man in a lumberjacket flee from the right of way a half-mile south here where the power car of the electrified train plowed over a creosoted tie and iron ballast fork laid across the rails. The train jerked to a sudden stop and the crew found the power car's front wheels cut through the tie and the big ballast fork, used to shovel stone. The car was not derailed.

AVOID BIG DOCTOR BILLS

BY PAUL BRAUNSCHWEIGER of the Mullen Drug Co.

Nothing is more certain than at one time or another every one is going to need the consultation of a physician. Often the postponement of this visit, allowing the slow ravages of a malady to progress, builds up a big bill to pay, not only in painful and slow convalescence, but in money.

In the majority of cases these big bills could have been avoided. "You have waited too long" is a severe indictment and one that only you can defray in pain and in financial stress.

See your doctor at least once a year in good health. Oftener if there is the slightest threat to well being.

Refer his prescription to a competent druggist.

BROOKLYN NOW 7-2 FAVORITE TO HOLD CURRENT LEAD AND TANGLE WITH YANKEES FOR WORLD TITLE

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Even the bookmakers finally have discovered Brooklyn is still in the National League.

For the first time since the pennant pot started to sizzle, the West 49th street betting booths in Pa Knickerbocker's village have put the Brooklyns up as favorites to hang onto their three-game lead through the last western whirl they start today, and go on to the championship.

Convinced at last that maybe "the Bums" can finish in front of the St. Louis Cardinals, the bookies not only took the favorite's spot away from the Gas Housers, but skyrocketed the Dodgers into the choice's chair at odds-on in the wagering.

On the latest prices, you have to lay $3.50 to win $1 if you like Brooklyn. On the other hand, if you're still stringing along with old St. Loo, you can get $2.50 for each $1 you put up. The $1 difference is what is known as the bookies' spread.

What finally convinced the betting boys was not only the three-game edge the daffiness boys built up, but also the fact that the schedule the rest of the way definitely leans far over in Brooklyn's favor.

Looking beyond the action for the next couple of days (the Cards tangle with the Pathetic Phillies and the Brooklyns work on the Chicago Cubs) you come right up and say howdy to the hot Dodger-Cardinal series Thursday, Friday and Saturday in St. Louis. If things Thursday are still as they are today, the Missouri Mudcats must sweep that set in order to come charging back into the fight.

Both leagues took a holiday yesterday.

Galiano Loses to Angott in Sixth

Washington, Pa., Sept. 9—(AP)—Sammy Angott, the NBA Lightweight Boxing Champion, displayed his prowess as a professional for the first time to his home town friends last night and disposed of Pete Galiano, of Baltimore, by a technical knockout in the sixth of their scheduled ten round bout.

Sammy, weighing 135, two pounds less than his opponent, never was in difficulty and had his man down twice in the sixth before Referee Freddy Mastrean stopped the contest. It was Angott's fiftieth ring conquest against four defeats and drew the applause of 1,600 fans at the baseball park.

Freddie Pope, Columbus, O., flattened Bob Crosbie, 125, Pittsburgh Negro, in the fourth of their scheduled six rounder, to win his 45th consecutive victory and 22nd knockout. Carmen Notch, 152, Pittsburgh, defeated Johnny JJones, 150, Columbus (6) and Tony Sharkins, 150, Pittsburgh beat Tony Gualteri, 148, Washington, (4).

ALICE MARBLE ASKING WOMEN TO WALK MORE

Philadelphia, Sept. 9—(AP)—Feminine America is going to do a lot of walking if Blonde Alice Marble has the same success in her new role of toughening women for defense as she's had on the tennis lot.

"Park the car a mile or so from the movie, your place of business and other spots," she urged the nation's womenfolk today. "Walk to the grocers. Start walking from half-mile to mlie distances, then increase it to miles and week-end hikes of 15 to 20."

But walking is just one of the former amateur net queen's ideas as assistant director of civilian defense. To make women physically fit during the emergency, she also suggests rope jumping, calisthenics, bycycle riding, bowling and all sorts of athletic games, faithfully carried out five days a week.

"We are interested in simple things, not costly, for nationwide interest among all ages," declares the 28-year-old Miss Marble. "We do not know from what age we will start from but there will be no limit. Women between 30 and 40 are vital for the work and influence they will have on their families. The same holds true of the older women."

Here to talk over her plans with John B. Kelly, national director of physical training in the Hale America program, Miss Marble said her chief aim during the next few weeks would be to find people in every hamlet to carry out her vast undertaking.

37 Eastern Ladies Qualify in Tourney

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 9—(AP)—The east's solid ranks in the women's national golf championship are due to suffer a severe shattering today when the 64 survivors engage in the opening round match play at the Country Club.

A total of 37 easterners managed to qualify by carding 89 or better yesterday when Defending Champion Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., launched her campaign for her third straight title by finishing in a four-way tie for the medalist honors. Today 22 of those victors were paired.

Sharing the spotlight with the attractive Texas miss were three competent eastern rivals who also managed to post three-over 76s for their qualifying tests, Grace Amory, of Locust Valley, N. Y., Jean Bauer, the Rhode Island champion, and Alice Belanger from nearby Beverly.

Landing gears constructed for super-dreadnaughts of the air are tested in a tower built 35 feet high. Fitted to the tester on a special carriage loaded with pig lead, the landing gear is raised to a predetermined height and dropped. This test formerly requiring two hours can be completed in about four minutes.

Giant, long-range bombardment airplanes weighing 100 tons or more are now in the design stage.

NAME GOLFERS ENTER PHILADELPHIA MEET

Philadelphia, Sept. 9—(AP)—Virtually every name golfer in the land, amateur and professional, is listed among the 87 entries announced for the $7,500 Henry A. Hurst invitation golf tournament at Torresdale-Frankford Country Club next week.

Craig Wood and Vic Ghezzi, national open and PGA champions respectively, head the sharpshooters who will compete in the richest golf test ever held in the Philadelphia district. Then there's Byron Nelson, Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, Gene Sarazen, Corporal Ed (Porky) Oliver, Ralph Guldahl, Harry Cooper, Dick Metz, Horton Smith, Lawson Little, Paul Runyan, Denny Shute and a host of other pro stars.

Marvin (Bud) Ward, newly crowned king of the amateurs, tops the simon pure contingent which also includes Dick Chapman, last year's amateur titleholder, Charley Yates, Ray Billots, Tommy Tailor and Willie Turnesa.

Three-dimensional drawings that give each workman in the aircraft factory a clear view of the manufacturing details are helping to speed airplane production.

Betty Jameson, of San Antonio, is favored to win third consecutive women's national amauter golf championship at Brookline, Mass.

SPORT SCATTERINGS

EAGLES "BOYCOTTED" AROUND SMOKY CITY BECAUSE OF POWER, BUT WARREN WILL GIVE THEM GOOD BRISK WORKOUT

Eight of the eleven starters on the Garfield Eagles are former college stars from some of the largest negro universities in the country and own reputations individually that draw a crowd at the box office just to see them play. Probably the greatest of the host of stars on the club is "Ink" Wilson, who gained All-American mention while at Morris-Brown College in Atlanta in 1939. Wilson is a center and the pivot man rates with any for alert play, dependable passes and strong line play. He's been with the Eagles one season and is coming up for the second campaign. Invaluable on defense and a great blocker on offense, Wilson can be pointed to as being partly responsible, at least, for many of last year's Eagle triumphs. Garfield has grown into such a strong club in the past two years that they are beginning to get the popular "boycott" from other teams in the Smoky City district. Unable to top the Eagles, many teams, to save their own reputations and box office power, will not book the colored boys. But the Red Jackets have always been known for accepting any or all takers, win, lose or draw, and the Eagles will find a game, a hard one, here on Sunday.

The West Point Cadets wouldn't find anything harder if they went across the puddle and shook hands with Hitler's forces than they will tangle with this fall in the form of a football schedule. Uncle Sam's boys of the land will probably get a real taste, more than once, of the good earth when they mix with such grid powers as Yale, Columbia, Notre Dame, Harvard, Penn, West Virginia and Navy. Brother, those aren't high schools, and Red Blaik, new coach and first civilian coach to handle an Army team in 30 years, knows this well. He's got one of the smallest Army squads in years to work with and last year's plebes didn't even offer him a good candidate for water boy, other than Henry Romanek, 192-pound guard, which doesn't exactly make him a giant for that position, and Halfback Ralph Hill. But the redhead doesn't promise to win more than half, possibly not that many of the nine-game schedule. The Army will take more than one bump on its schnozzle, and will come plowing back for more. But if the typical fight is there, look for Army to do some surprising.

Week's grid-ironing . . . With the season ticket sale well over the seventy mark, the Jackets have another reason for making this a season that will tower above all others in the past . . . And with Coach Reese, capable mentor who was handling the same job twenty and twenty-one years ago this season, holding the reins, they should easily make their mark in the record books . . . Plenty of beef for a forward wall, and plenty of speed in the pony backfield . . . However, this year's backs won't be quite as light as they were last year, for, while they're practically the same players, all of them have added weight since last season . . . There were over thirty changes in high school coaches made before this season got under way officially this past weekend . . . And four of them hit close to home: at Kane, Sheffield, Oil City and Erie . . . Not to mention Youngsville and Kinzua in the smaller schools . . . Billy Conn laughs at Lou Nova's chances of beating Joe Louis . . . But it may be a laughing prayer that Lou doesn't cop the title before Billy gets another chance . . . Please take note, that isn't our personal opinion, just a hunch.

Bradford Bees Play Red Wings for Cup

The Bradford Bees, who finished in second place in the PONY League pennant race this season, last night defeated Batavia in the deciding game of their five game series in the semi-finals of the playoffs under the Shaughnessey system for the Governor's Cup by a score of 1-0.

A home run in the seventh inning brought the only marker and placed the Bees in the finals against Hamilton, winners over the champions, Jamestown's Falcons, in their semi-final series.

Tonight and tomorrow evening the Red Wings will play in Bradford in the first two games of the best-in-seven series for the trophy. Friday, Saturday and Sunday, if the last date is necessary, the teams will play in Hamilton.

KAPLAN LOSES TO MONTGOMERY IN HARD BOUT

Philadelphia, Sept. 9—(AP)—Bob Montgomery has demonstrated again why he is considered Philadelphia's greatest lightweight since the days of Lew Tendler back in the early 1920's.

Battered around for nearly five rounds by Boston's Mike Kaplan before 12,000 at Shibe Park last night Montgomery came roaring from behind in the sixth to floor Kaplan twice for no counts and followed through in the eighth and ninth to gain an unanimous 10-round decision.

His lips cut and bleeding by Kaplan's jabs in the early rounds Montgomery turned the tables in quick order from the fifth on. During the eighth and ninth he raised lumps on Kaplan's face, drew blood to his opponent's lips and at the end had ringsiders wondering how Kaplan managed to go the distance.

A 6 to 5 favorite before the bout, Montgomery gave away 7½ pounds. He weighed 136 pounds to Kaplan's 143½.

The bout closed Philadelphia's outdoor season. Promoter Herman Taylor announced his first indoor show would be held at Convention Hall Sept. 25, bringing together unbeaten Ray "Sugar" Robinson, of New York, against unbeaten Marty Servo, of Scenectady, in a 10-rounder.

BRUTAL BEATING CHARGED

Easton, Sept. 9 (AP)—Osville and Arthur Schegel of nearby East Bangor, who admitted beating two-year-old Osville Schegel Jr., so severely he spent more than a month in the hospital, were sentenced to one and a half to seven years in prison by Judge Frank P. McCluskey who commented: "It's a long, long time since we had such a brutal exhibition of child beating in this county." Dr. L. E. Schuster said the child was beaten into unconsciousness with a strap, various toys and a shovel.

SEASON TICKET SALE POINTS TO LARGE CROWD FOR INITIAL RED JACKET TILT AGAINST GARFIELD

With less than a week to go before the opening game with the Garfield Eagles, crack Pittsburgh colored aggregation of ex-colored stars, the sale of ten dollar season tickets for the Warren Red Jackets football games is proceding at the same merry clip as the nightly practices held by the football team on Beaty field.

That Warren fans have a strong interest in the brilliant prospects of this year's grid machine is attested by the crowd of spectators out every night for practice to see the big squad of huskies, most of them new to local eyes; and also by the pace at which season tickets have been moving. A check up yesterday showed that 72 of the season books have been purchased by local fans, and a number of others have indicated their intention of buying a book before the curtain rises next Sunday at Rusell Field.

Among the ones who have bought one or more books of season tickets, and who will be found every Sunday in choice reserved seats near the fifty yard line are the following: Beyer Africa, Dr. E. S. Africa, Dean Anderson, Melbourne Anderson, Nick Anderson, Tom Armstrong, Harold Baker, Stewart Beckley, Jim Bell, Kenneth Bjers, John Blair, Lester Blair, Robert Bloom, Edwin Borden, Homer Bowersox, Edward Branch, George Calderwood, Harry Danas, Raymond Elliott, Dr. Russell Elliott, Holger Elmquist, Creed Erickson, John Fenstermacher, Ray Futz, Geracimos Company, Dr. Robert Gerrety, Allen Gibson, Eddie Henderson, Allan Jackson, Paddy Jackson, Harry Johnson, Emmons Jones, Howard Kay, Melvin Keller, Ben Kinnear, Clyde Knapp, DeVere Kirberger, Dr. T. K. Larson, Virgil Lesser, Edwin Ley, Harry Logan, Orrin Loper, Don McComas, Neil MacDonald, Earnest Miller, Harold M. Miller, William Muir, New York Restaurant, Victor Offerle, Herbert Onions, Arthur Peterson, H. B. Pettit, Plumer Printz, Bob Ritchie, Albert Rockwell, Savoy Cafe, Gene Scalise, Dr. F. G. Schuler, Sam Sherman, Donald C. Smith, C. P. Spiridon, Ray Steber, Raymond Stein, John Trevenen, Emmons Wade, Edward Walker, John Waples, Leonard Whiteshot and Charles Young.

With the prospects of a banner team and the financial start from the highly successful sale of season tickets, everything points toward a very fine season.

City League bowlers are getting ready for their organization meeting at the Arcade Alleys at eight o'clock tomorrow night, it was stated today by Thad Lawson. At least eight teams are expected to be represented and maybe the loop will see ten this year.

Sports Round-up

BY HUGH S. FUULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 9—(The Special News Service)—Dope book on the National League race shows that in 25 years no club has clinched the pennant before September 18, and in 1934 the Cards won on the final day after being seven games behind on September 6. . . . So that series out in St. Loo won't settle everything. . . Eddie Arcaro comes up before the Jockey Club for sentence tomorrow and lots of folks are wondering what they'll decide really happened in the Hopeful. . . Eddie's story is that he and Johnny Longden tried to go through a hole just big enough for one hoss and Arcaro got there first. Another yarn is that he's ready to retire anyway and doesn't care if they do advance the date on him. . . . But the track regulars just say, "You oughta seen him in Florida." . . . Ace Parker won't play for the football Dodgers against the Bears tonight. His bum ankle is coming along all right, but Jock Sutherland doesn't want to take any chances with it in an exhibition. . . . Look for the football powers to announce a change in that unlimited substitution rule within the next couple of days.

Quote, Unquote

Branch Rickey (a few days ago) "If Terry Moore gets back in the lineup, it will be all over and Mac Phail will be wearing sackcloth and ashes. . . . It doesn't look very good for Moore."

Rumor Market

If Gabby Hartnett believes everything he hears, he sure must be wondering where he'll land next . . . Current stories have him (1) managing the Giants next year while Bill Terry moves to the front office, and (2) managing Jersey City. . . . The Phils haven't said anything, but the baseball writers think Doc Prothro is out and Hans Lobert will be manager next year . . . Down in Atlanta they hear that Marty Marion, who used to play there, will be traded by the Cards to the Dodgers. . . . Louisville scribes aren't so sure that Johnny Pesky will be filling Joe Cronin's brogans next season. They think he is a year or two away. . . Local report is that it cost the Dodgers Babe Phelps' full year's pay nad a bonus to persuade him to retire so they could take on another man in his place.

Today's Guest Star

Jack Singer, N. Y. Journal American: "Several critics attach sinister significance to the fact that the Giants are going on the road at the same time the comedians are coming back on the radio. They imply the Giants just can't stand competition."

Ben Jones will ship Whirlaway to Narragansett today to run in the $25,000 special Saturday. . . Zeke Bonura hopes to be out of the army before the American Association playoffs are over. . . Ham Lortner, who used to manage Max Baer and once owned Lou Nova, is in a San Francishco army hospital. . . Connie Smythe, the big horse and hockey man from Toronto, may abandon both for the duration. . . . He's hoping to get into Canada's active army. . . . Wanta buy a ball club? Gerry Nugent says you can have the Phils if yoc pay $550,000 on the line and take over some of the club's debts. . . . Old Satchel Paige who has been pitching regularly winter and summer, for 17 years thinks he'll take this winter off and rest. "It isn't the pitching that tires me," says Satch. "It's this hitting, hitting, all the time hiting." . . . The six-day bike racing season opens in Monreal October 12 and Harry Mendel hopes to team up Charley Vaccino, from the U. S. Army, and Andy McConnell from the Royal Canadian Air Force if McConnell can get leave . . . New Englanders are looking ahead to September 27 when Boston College plays at Tulane in the afternoon and Holy Cross plays at L. S. U. at night. . . . Once they've taken the ride from New Orleans to Baton Rouge they'll have something to look back on, too.

JAY COOKE NAMED MAJOR

Philadelphia, Sept. 9—(AP)—Jay Cooke, former Republican leader who quit Philadelphia politics for the army, has been promoted to the rank of major. He went on active duty with the army last January and was appointed a captain. He is now with the 111th Infantry on maneuvers in Virginia.

pressure it to stop producing accurate and factual pictures no Nazi-ism."

While the crowd, jam-packed into a large committee room listened intently, Nye read a long prepared statement, charging, among other things, that "four or five" movie magnates held the power to feed the American people on propaganda engendering hate against other peoples of the world. Such an attitude must be developed, Nye contended, before the United States could be brought into the war.

Gigantic Battle In Central Section Is Reported By Russia

(From Page One)

(The German High Command said last night that Leningrad was completely encircled as a result of the fall of Schluesselburg, 21 miles east of the city on Lake Ladoga.)

Berlin, Sept. 9—(AP)—Leningrad, cut off from all land connection with the rest of Russia, is being hammered day and night by Nazi Stukas and battle planes, the German High Command reported today.

A communique from the fuehrer's headquarters said Leningrad and its 3,200,000 population with extensive defending forces was cut off with "speed divisions of the German army, excellently supported by aid force combat units, reached the Neva on a broad front east of Leningrad."

Then a single German infantry regiment stormed across the Neva river and took Schlesselburg, 21 miles east of Leningrad, the communique said.

Yesterday and last night, it was said, the German air force concentrated on Leningrad's teeming "armament and supply facilities," and also directed a night raid on Moscow.

Authorized sources said the huge water works of Leningrad was among the vital facilities hit by bombs in air force action last night.

How many Soviet troops lay within the ring of steel which the German High Command announced last night had been forged around the big industrial center at the head of the Gulf of Finland remained a matter of speculation.

It was assumed here, however, Leningrad's defenses were heavily manned and that the city was prepared to fight to the bitter end.

Solemn Requiem for Mother of the President Is Simple and Private

sages of sympathy, the grief of Franklin Delano Roosevelt was a personal thing, the tragedy of a man rather than of a chief executive.

Thus it was that he decided that the funeral services would be simple and private. They were scheduled to begin at 2 p. m. (EST) in the library of the spacious Roosevelt home, with the singing of Mrs. Roosevelt's favorite hymn, "O, Love That Wilt Not Let Me Go," by a choir of eight from St. James church.

To the rector of St. James, the Rev. Frank R. Wilson, was assigned the reading of the inspired prayers and Biblical passages which comprise the Episcopal order for the burial of the dead.

The president's mother lay in a mahogany casket in a room whose long rows of books, massive, well-used furniture, and huge fireplace spoke more of comfort than of elegance. It has been both living room and library, and in it the grandchildren romped gayly in years gone by.

Today, three of them were there with their wives for the funeral of the woman who was the "grand dame" of Hyde Park house to the countryside, but just "granny" to them. They were John, Elliott and James Roosevelt. Their mother, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, was present, too, of course, and so were other members of the family, and people from the estate.

Some of the latter had spent most of their lives on the Roosevelt acres, and the death of Mrs. Roosevelt was a personal loss for them, too.

British Seize Rich Coal Mines In Spitsbergen

the Soviet's back" but it was unclear here what practical results were expected to be gained.

They said Germany economically was little interested in Spitzbergen, and the British statement that the step was taken to prevent German utilization of the islands' coal mines was described as "pretty far-fetched."

Heightens Crisis In Relations

The victim of the latest attack—the second incident in less than a week—was the 5,719-ton freighter Steel Seafarer which was sent to the bottom by the bombs of an air raider, whose nationality was said to be unknown.

The crew of the ship—some 20-odd men—escaped with their lives when she went down on Sept. 7, the State Department disclosed, but this fact hardly diminished the gravity with which the news of the sinking was received here last night.

The bombing of the Steel Seafarer, coming only 72 hours after the Sept. 4 sea clash between the U. S. S. Greer and a German submarine in the North Atlantic, seemingly made a showdown inevitable with the Axis on the American interpretation of freedom of the seas.

The general expectation here was that President Roosevelt would use his address to the nation Thursday night for a forceful declaration of policy on the subject.

In some quarters the conviction was already growing that the chief executive would announce that henceforth the United States would meet force with force every time it is encountered on the oceans.

There was lively conjecture, too, as to whether the administration would act to arm merchant shipping on dangerous routes so that they could defend themselves. The navy has kept plans for such an emergency up to date since 1918, Mr. Roosevelt disclosed not long ago.

News of the Red Sea sinking was transmitted to the State Department by Alexander O. Kirk, the American minister at Cairo, Egypt. The department did not release the location where the ship went down, the circumstances of the attack, or whether the ship was en route to Egypt or returning home.

In the absence of more specific information, the assumption here was that she was a lease-lend cargo vessel—all American ships plying the Red Sea route carry lease-lend shipments, the maritime commission indicates—and that her attacker was a long-range German or Italian bomber operating from a Mediterranean base.

Berlin, Sept. 9.—(AP)—News of the sinking of the American freighter Seafarer in the Red Sea need surprise no one, authorized quarters commented today.

They said "this area has been declared a war zone by the Italians long ago."

"The area which is considered in war is one that has been carefully described," the source said. "Of course there is shooting around the Suez Canal. There are naturally Italian and German planes in that region since the Axis is attempting to cut off the Britisher from supplies there.

"Roosevelt, in connection with the Abyssinian (Ethiopian) events, said this was no longer a war area but as the reported incident shows he acted somewhat hastily."

Factions Fight for Control

(From Page Two)

Pittsburgh, Sept. 9—(AP)—Allegheny county voters displayed only lukewarm interest in voting today in the primary election despite the combination of hot weather and hot political contests.

With the exception of a few scattered districts, voting was reported light during the first hours following the opening of the polls. Interest which had been centered on the Pittsburgh mayoralty nomination fights, which involve county leadership of the Republican and Democratic parties, suddenly shifted during the day to the common pleas court campaigns.

Word circulated in political quarters that District Attorney Andrew T. Park and Arthur L. McLaughlin, Jr., a labor attorney with CIO backing, were attempting to break the front of the Democratic court slate backed by National Committeeman David L. Lawrence. Neither Park nor McLaughlin was slated.

Lawrence, however, reported that all district and ward chairman and party workers were sticking to the organization's ticket. The heaviest voting was in the precincts where Park and McLaughlin counted on picking up strength.

When removing spots caused by grease or dirt from mohair upholstering in your car, just use a good grade of soap.

HEAVY BUYING IN COMMODITIES

New York, Sept. 9—(AP)—Securities markets today were overshadowed by further heavy buying in commodities.

Stocks inclined to edge forward, along with bonds, but, except for scattered issues, advances were in minor fractions. Some irregularity developed after mid-day and quotations were no better than steady near the final hour. Low-priced shares accounted for a pickup in volume. Transfers were at the rate of approximately 800,000 shares, biggest since the latter part of July.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Sept. 9—(AP)—Under the leadership of soybeans, grain futures prices again advanced sharply today in a continuation of yesterday's abrupt rise to the highest levels in about four years following a government announcement seeking increased production of foods. Opening quotations on soybeans were three to more than six cents a bushel higher.

Wheat started ⅝-¾ cents above yesterday's closing levels, September 1.19⅞, December 1.23½-¾, and then continued to advance. Corn started ⅛ to ⅝ higher, September 81¼, December 85 ¼-⅛.

LOSS OF ESPERIA IS ADMITTED IN ROME

Rome, Sept. 9—(AP)—The Italian High Command acknowledged today that a British submarine had sunk the 11,398-ton steamer Esperia in the central Mediterranean but said almost all of those aboard had been rescued by escorting warships.

(The Admiralty in London announced Saturday that the Esperia had been sunk by a British submarine off Tripoli. The announcement said the vessel which was presumed to be carrying Axis reinforcements to North Africa, was traveling with an exceptionally strong naval escort.)

The daily war bulletin also reported that British air raiders had attacked Palermo, Sicily, again last night, but said most of the bombs fell in the open sea.

PHILADELPHIANS ARE VICTIMS OF CRASHES

Philadelphia, Sept. 9—(AP)—Two men were killed yesterday in separate traffic accidents in the Philadelphia area.

Frank Monkiewicz, 19, was fatally injured when he lost control of his motorcycle, which hit a fireplug and a mail box and crashed into a group of people. An elderly man in the crowd suffered a broken leg.

Thomas Matz, 83, assistant engineer at a Norristown brewery, was killed when the car in which he was riding overturned four times south of Paoli.

KITTANNING IS SCENE OF HIGHWAY FATALITY

Kittanning, Sept. 9—(AP)—A big truck-trailer swerved from a curve at the intersection of Routes 66 and 422 in Kittanning today, plunged down an embankment and landed on the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks, killing a woman and injuring a man in the vehicle.

Coroner Charles M. Woodward said the woman had been tentatively identified from a driver's license as Miss Thearl Sherman, 32, of Chicago, although he said residents of the Chicago address advised that she lived in Boston.

The Interstate Trucking Company, operating from Toledo, Pittsburgh and Chicago, owned the truck.

Figures compiled by the Public Roads Administration show that 55.3 per cent of all travel was for business purposes. The rest, recreational and social mileage is 44.7 per cent or 128 billion miles—well under half.

Death Ends 87 Active Years for First Mother of the Land

MOTHER AND SON—For all the activities in which Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt took part right up to the end of her 87 years, her greatest interest was always her son, the President. He was her favorite topic of conversation. This informal photo was snapped at Hyde Park just a year ago, almost to the day, before her death.

A RARE POSED PORTRAIT of Mrs. Roosevelt—rare because most pictures of her were snapped by news photographers at the many civic and philanthropic functions in which she took an active role. The portrait was made at her New York City home.

A SPEAKER in behalf of many charities, Mrs. Roosevelt also did much social work so quietly that few realized its scope.

A RECENT PUBLIC APPEARANCE of the President's mother brought her to a dinner of the English Speaking Union, where she is pictured with British Ambassador Lord Halifax. Mrs. Roosevelt had many British friends, was presented at court when she was 80.

FALL VACATIONS IN THIS STATE WILL DRAW MANY

Harrisburg, Sept. 8—With the busier part of the summer season over most Pennsylvania resorts and state parks remain open the first few weeks of September to welcome post-holiday visitors.

The State Department of Commerce reports that many persons have indicated preference for early fall vacations. "With a short drive and small amount of gasoline it is possible to find enjoyable vacation facilities for week ends or longer in every section of the state," according to Mark S. James, secretary of the department.

Centrally located in Pennsylvania's eastern sector is the popular Pocono Mountain region where dozens of inns and hotels have extended their season to accommodate those seeking active recreation or restful relaxation.

State College is the hub of an area containing approximately 15 state parks and numerous tourist inns. Picnickers and campers flock to this picturesque region of the Seven Mountains easily accessible through Clearfield, Lewistown, Williamsport, Lock Haven and Lewisburg.

In the northern tier counties Wellsboro boasts of scenic Pine Creek Gorge and picnicking, camping and horseback riding facilities in nearby Harrison State Park. At Kane, west of Wellsboro on U. S. Route 6 and high on the Allegheny plateau, vacationers enjoy the crisp, enervating climate of that region.

Pennsylvania's northwestern country has 6,000 acre Cook Forest State Park, where there are cabin facilities, tenting areas and opportunities for hiking and picnicking. Cooksburg, Brookville, DuBois, Clarion, Brockway, Reynoldsville and Oil City are in close proximity to the park. South of Kane and easily reached from Warren and Titusville is Allegheny National Forest, one of the state's most scenic areas.

Southwestern Pennsylvania offers vacation pleasure in the vicinity of Uniontown where Mount Summit is a popular resort.

In the southern area there are vacation spots in and around Bedford, well-known for mineral springs. The Lincoln Highway, U. S. 30 leads into this region. Near Waynesboro and close to the Mason-Dixon line there is a resort colony, easily accessible from Chambersburg, Harrisburg, Hanover and York.

Danish Youth Visiting Here Has Thrilling Experiences As Sailor

A visitor in Warren and Jamestown for the past several days, Ragnar Anderson, 22 years old, of Wallborg, Denmark, is one youth who is not anxious to return to his native land. The reason is that if he sets foot on Danish soil while it is occupied by Germany, he will be arrested immediately and will face a prison term of from one to ten years.

The youth, just out of school where he learned to be a typesetter, started his exciting adventure in March, 1940, when the Danish merchant ship S. S. Cyril, on which he was serving as a mess boy, was transferred to the British service. It was then that the Nazis marched into Denmark and rather than remain under the swastika rule, Anderson and his comrades shipped under the British flag.

The Cyril sailed for England and arrived there April 8, 1940. The crew, including Anderson, remained at Blyth, England, for about two months and then sailed for Casablanca, Northwest Africa, where the ship arrived June 8. The ship remained there until September. In the meanwhile, Germany had taken control of France. When the ship arrived in Port Lyautey, French Morocco, the Vichy French government forces held the ship, since it was flying the English flag. Members of the crew were held as prisoners.

At that time, according to Anderson, there were fifteen Norwegian and Danish vessels in the port all flying the English flag. All were held.

Ragnar and four of his shipmates grew discontented with their enforced detainment and plotted among themselves to escape from their plight. The first time they tried it, however, they were apprehended and were thrown into prison in Port Lyautey for fifteen days. Two days after they were released, however, they again made an attempt but were again caught by the Vichy French officials. That time they were given a severe warning against further attempts. As a result of the many attempts, the French, acting under German orders, took off all the life boats from the impounded ships.

Nothing daunted, however, one of Ragnar's comrades slid over the side of the vessel Cyril about midnight last June 7 and stole a fishing dory. In the meanwhile Ragnar and three other companions had gathered together provisions and water.

In spite of the vigilant guard of French authorities against escapes, the five men managed to board their small boat with their provisions and set out for Gibraltar. There was a small sail aboard the boat, which Ragnar termed a rowboat. This aided considerably although the men had to row most of the way.

The group in the boat spent four days and nights in the sea making the estimated 200 miles to Gibraltar. On the second night, exhausted from rowing and the effects of the elements, the group put ashore in Spanish Morocco where they spent most of the night. One blessing, Ragnar reported, was that no storms were encountered but there was a heavy swell most of the time. The course was steered by compass which was aboard that boat.

When the five men landed at Gibraltar they had exhausted the last of their water and were mighty glad to put in at a friendly land.

Soon after landing, however, Anderson signed aboard a Jugoslav ship as cook and sailed off to Halifax, Nova Scotia; and from there to New York, where he arrived August 11. After some time in New York he came to Warren and Jamestown to visit his aunt, Mrs. Marie Peterson, Laurel street, this city, and his cousin, Mrs. Frank W. Carlson, Jamestown.

The youth will return to New York later this week to take berth on another ship, plying between New York and South America.

He said that while he was being detained in Port Lyautey, he was able to communicate with his parents in Denmark and from them learned, although all letters and cablegrams were censored, that Danish sailors who shipped with English vessels would face imprisonment of from one to ten years upon their return to Denmark.

"The Germans did that," Ragnar stated simply.

Questioned as to whether he would return to Denmark, Ragnar smiled and said he did not intend to in view of the situation obtaining there now.

Ragnar revealed that the day he and his comrades arrived at Gibraltar after their escape, two other small boats also arrived containing nine men in all. A grim comic sidelight, the sailor cook stated that one of the boats was stolen from a Vichy French government destroyer.

One of the prime reasons for the successful attempt to escape according to Ragnar was the fact that French authorities at Port Lyautey had announced that the Danish sailors would be sent back to Denmark. With prison staring them in the face, the men chose to risk the open sea and as a result escaped.

Questioned about Gibraltar and whether he had been through any bombings, Ragnar said that there had been some "fireworks" before he left but that the island was strongly fortified and enemy air planes did not bother it much.

GIGANTIC BATTLE IN CENTRAL SECTION IS REPORTED BY RUSSIA

Moscow Communique Declares That Within Ten Days Rumanians Beseiging Odessa Have Left More Than 20,000 Dead Men in Approaches to Black Sea Port; Fifty Villages Are Reclaimed

BERLIN STILL INSISTS LENINGRAD ENCIRCLED

Moscow, Sept. 9—(AP)—The Soviet armies of the central front today were pursuing the broken remnants of a German force of 100,000 men back westward toward Smolensk, having thrust the Nazis back 16 miles in two days and recaptured 150 square miles of territory and 50 villages in a gigantic continuing battle, official dispatches reported.

A communique reported that within ten days the Rumanians besieging Odessa have left more than 20,000 dead men in the approaches to that Black Sea port as the Red navy leads a dail ysortie against the Germans' allies.

It was the big counter-thrust on the central front, however, that shone as the rosiest star on the Soviet horizon.

A government communique said eight Nazi divisions were cut to pieces in a fierce counter-offensive which began 26 days ago and reached its climax with recapture of the railway town of Yelnya, 200 miles southwest of Moscow and 40 miles east of Smolensk.

Tens of thousands of unburied German dead lay where they had fallen, and there were equal numbers of wounded who were carried westward by their comrades, the dispatch said.

The artillery of the Red army is now pounding the Germans' backs a good 13 miles or more west of Yelnya, Pravda concluded.

Military observers expressed belief the success might relieve pressure on Leningrad, compelling the Nazis to withdraw some troops from that northern sector to save their sagging lines in the center.

Eight Nazi divisions, a Soviet communique said, were cut to pieces by Red Army troops in a fierce counter-offensive which began 26 days ago and reached its climax yesterday with Red capture of the railway town of Yelnya, 200 miles southwest of Moscow and 40 miles east of Smolensk.

The victory was the greatest claimed by the Russians since the start of the war, now in its 12th week, and military observers expressed belief the success might relieve pressure on Leningrad by compelling the Germans to withdraw some troops from that sector in order to bolster sagging lines on the central front.

All reports from the front pictured the Leningrad civilian population as fighting side by side with Red soldiers and contesting every foot of ground with the Nazi invaders.

Greater Help From United States Navy Plea of Churchill

By the Associated Press

London, Sept. 8—Prime Minister Churchill in a sweeping review of the war today expressed the wish for "greater help" from the American navy and warned that Adolf Hitler may come to "close quarters" with the United States and turn the whole Atlantic into one vast war zone.

Addressing the House of Commons, assembled for the first time since Aug. 6, Churchill declared bluntly that the battle of the Atlantic was not yet won.

An implication that both Britain and the United States were ready for Atlantic eventualities was in his statement that "strong British and United States forces" in Iceland now include "some very considerable United States and British naval and air forces."

The prime minister gave the British people a somewhat cheering picture of the battle of the seas, with a sudden increase in British successes in the past two months, but he made it plain that there was a long fight ahead.

Churchill made only a passing reference to Spitzbergen, Norwegian Arctic archipelago which Allied forces have raided to prevent its coal from going to Germany, but mention of the action brought loud cheers.

Some members of Commons were disappointed that there were no further disclosures regarding the dashing expedition of Spitzbergen, announced only yesterday.

Churchill told a cheering house: "The Germans are much hampered on the American part of the Atlantic by fear of trouble with the powerful American naval force which ceaselessly patrol the approaches to the western hemisphere. This has been a help to us but I wish it might be a greater help."

Churchill asserted that he and President Roosevelt reached "highly important decisions" in their historic Atlantic conference regarding help for Russia and "the policy to be pursued" to check Japan and prevent spread of war to the Pacific.

Churchill won the loudest cheer when he declared that the "magnificent resistance" of the Russian armies had cost the Germans more blood in the last three months than Germany lost in any single year of the first World War. Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky was in the gallery.

He got another big cheer when he demanded the surrender of all Axis nationals in Iran to protect the supply route to Russia.

MAYOR DIES

Coatesville, Sept. 9—(AP)—Mayor Albert R. Bergstrom, 48, died early today from high blood pressure and complications resulting from a kidney ailment. Bergstrom was serving his second term as mayor. He had been in failing health for a year. Last Friday, he was brought unconscious to the Coatesville hospital and never regained consciousness.

GAS RATIONING SHOWS RESULTS

Washington, Sept. 9—(AP)—Acting Petroleum Coordinator Ralph K. Davies testified today that some curtailment of gasoline purchasing on the eastern seaboard must continue through the winter.

At the same time, Davies told a special Senate committee investigating petroleum shortages that construction of a vast pipeline from southwestern oil fields to the northeast was "just as vital as warships and planes."

Asserting that serious "mistakes" had been made in estimating supplies of aluminum and steel needed for defense, Davies declared that as serious as these were "they do not approach the havoc and catastrophe which will overwhelm us immediately if we go wrong on oil."

Unless present restrictions of gasoline were maintained, Davies said there was "prospect of disastrous shortages of fuel for industry and homes this winter."

Solemn Requiem for Mother of the President is Simple and Private

Somber, Comforting Words of the Episcopal Burial Service Used at Obsequies of Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt at Hyde Park Edifice

RESTS IN CHURCH YARD

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 9—(AP)—The somber, comforting words of the Episcopal burial service sound a solemn requiem today for Sara Delano Roosevelt, mother of the president.

On a final, familiar journey, the chief executive accompanies her down the maple-shaded driveway of the estate to which she came as a bride 61 years ago and along the usually bustling Albany post road to weathered St. James church, where they had worshipped together so many times.

In the church-yard, behind the gray, stone edifice, a final resting place awaited her among other Roosevelts who had preceded her in death.

With her distinguished son beside her bed, Mrs. Roosevelt died Sunday at the family home after a circulatory collapse brought on by her advanced age. She was nearly 87.

BRITISH SEIZE RICH COAL MINES IN SPITSBERGEN

By the Associated Press

London, Sept. 9—Alleged German plans for seizure of the rich coal mines of Spitzbergen, Arctic archipelago owned by Nazi-occupied Norway, were declared officially today to have bene thwarted bloodlessly by a powerful Canadian, British and Free Norwegian expeditionary force in a full-dress invasion which the natives welcomed.

"This source of fuel has now been denied to the Germans, the British war office said, without reporting whether the mines simply were left under guard or their usefulness destroyed.

They have been worked primarily by Norwegian and Russian labor.

Civilians helped the soldiers unload their craft of munitions and supplies.

British ships, removed about 1,000 Norwegians—miners and their families—to England, where the men signed up for military or merchant marine service. It thus was indicated that at least some of the mines, which produced 707,117 tons of coal in 1936, would be out of operation for the duration of the war.

Spitzbergen's two radio stations were seized.

Berlin, Sept. 9—(AP)—German reaction to the British-Canadian-Norwegian landing on Spitzbergen, described the expedition as "a typical prestige move."

Authorized Germans said "it obviously was aimed at stiffening

LEVELING OFF IN POLIO CASES IS ANNOUNCED

Sixty-Six Cases Reported in State Last Week as Compared With 65 the Week Before and 80 Three Weeks Ago

READJUST SCHEDULES

Harrisburg, Sept. 9—(AP)—A leveling off in the outbreak of infantile paralysis which has attacked more than 300 Pennsylvanians and caused 25 deaths so far this year was announced today by the Department of Health.

"Numerically, the infantile paralysis situation in the state has leveled off, being no worse and no better this week than last week," declared Dr. J. Moore Campbell, director of the Bureau of Health Conservation, who said the department is making an "exhaustive survey" of the situation.

He explained that 66 new cases were reported officially last week as compared with 65 the week before and 80 three weeks ago.

Meanwhile, York county recorded its 90th case of the disease. The latest victim, an 18-month-old boy was reported by hospital attendants to be in serious condition.

The school board at Chester last night ordered all schools in the city closed until Sept. 24, as two cases of paralysis were discovered there. Those afflicted were four-year-old Charles Bryant and Mrs. Catherine Powers, 17.

The outbreak has delayed public school openings in at least 11 counties until September 15, or later, and has caused numerous Pennsylvania colleges to readjust football schedules to meet late openings.

WINTER STILL GRIPS COLORADO

Denver, Sept. 9—(AP)—Rocky mountain westerners poked more fuel into their furnaces today and went to work in overcoats after winter made a surprise feint from Canada to Colorado.

Additional coal trucks were called for and heating companies sent men scurrying to thousands of homes to turn on oil and gas burners.

Wayfarers in two states encountered harrowing experiences when a widespread snowstorm overtook them and temperatures dropped near or below freezing.

Several mountain passes were closed by the snow, which ranged to a foot in depth in Wyoming, but were reopened today in most cases. The lowest city temperature, 29 degrees, was reported from two-mile-high Leadville, Colo. At the summit of Pikes Peak it was nine above zero.

Four tourists from the warmer eastern United States were among six persons who were rescued from the grip of the storm yesterday.

FACTIONS FIGHT FOR CONTROL

A VERY LIGHT VOTE IS INDICATED BY REPORTS

By the Associated Press

Philadelphia, Sept. 9—Pennsylvania's voters evinced little interest during the early polling hours today in the state's 1941 primary contest, although hot factional fights in several sections promised to bring out sizable balloting.

With only two state-wide offices at stake—justice of the Supreme Court and Judge of the Superior Court—most of the political spotlight was focused on Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, where groups engaged in battles for party control.

The weather was that of a perfect September day. Heavy rains in the Philadelphia area slackened before the polls opened at 7 a. m. (E. S. T.). They close at 8 p. m.

BOARD A. W. O. L.

Philadelphia, Sept. 9—(AP)—Nine members of three election boards just failed to show up today when the polls opened for the 1941 primary. After waiting a half-hour or so, a handful of voters held a curbstone meeting and named new boards, sworn in by a representative of the county board of elections. Friends said they presumed the absentees felt they couldn't be spared from their regular jobs on defense contracts.

Today's vote was expected to have considerable bearing on next year's important gubernatorial campaign. In Philadelphia, William J. Hamilton, Jr., discharged state secretary of revenue who is leader of a faction seeking the ouster of the regular city organization predicted victory.

The Philadelphia squabble centered around three of the four city-county offices, and City Chairman David Harris, leader of the regular organization, likewise asserted he was confident of vic-

Lock Haven, Sept. 9—(AP)—Waiving preliminary hearing, Roy Kenneth Houck, 21, charged with assaulting two Lock Haven girls, was held in Clinton county jail today to await an October trial.

Said by Major Charles C. Keller of the state police to have admitted the two attacks along with six others in Centre county, Houck declined to enter a plea upon arraignment yesterday but authorities pointed out the former orchestra leader could still enter one before court opens the third week in October. Centre county officials have agreed, they said, to allow the Clinton county prosecution first.

Houck was charged with aggravated assault and battery, assault with intent to maim, and assault with intent to kill in the attack

THREE YANKEE FLIERS ARE REPORTED MISSING

By the Associated Press

Three fliers of the American eagle squadron are missing from operations Sunday over German-occupied France, an American source said today.

The fliers: Eugene Quimby ("Red") Tobin of Los Angeles; H. S. Fenlaw of Lewisville, Tex.; and William H. Nichols of San Carlos, Calif.

Tobin, big and red-haired, was reported to have been the first flier from the United States to shoot down a German plane over Britain.

KEEN INTEREST IN ADDRESS OF CHIEF EXECUTIVE

Conviction Grows in Washington That President in Talk to Nation Will Announce Policy to Meet Force With Force on High Seas

ICELAND IN SPOTLIGHT

By W. B. ARDERY

Washington, Sept. 9—(AP)—The conviction grew in informed quarters here today that President Roosevelt in his address to the nation Thursday night would announce that henceforth the policy of the United States would be to meet force with force on the high seas.

This belief was immeasurably strengthened by the latest incident in the sea war to touch this country's interests—the sinking of the American merchantman Steel Seafarer in the Red Sea by a bombing plane.

Although no one professed to know precisely what the chief executive would say, one informant, asking anonymity, declared he thought it safe to predict that the president would make these three points:

1. Germany and the world must know that this nation intends to keep open its communications with Iceland;

2. The appearance of any hostile vessel or aircraft in the area between United States and Iceland would be regarded as an effort to interfere with American communications.

3. American naval units would be ordered to open fire on any hostile ships or planes encountered thereafter in the waters between this country and Iceland.

This informant, who based his

PRICE OF MILK IS TAKING JUMP

Harrisburg, Sept. 9—(AP)—Consumers in more than 40 Pennsylvania counties will pay one cent more for each quart of milk delivered on their doorsteps, effective September 16, the Milk Control Commission announced.

The increase raises from 12 to 13 cents a quart the price of milk for area 13—Williamsport-Sayre-Athens district—and from 11 to 12 cents for the so-called state wide district which covers nearly two-thirds of the state but only 16 per cent of the population.

The new area 11 order raises the price of class 1 milk to the producers 25 cents a hundredweight on the basis of 4 per cent butterfat milk; 10 cents a hundredweight for class 1A; 20 cents a hundredweight for class 2 and 5 cents a hundredweight for class 3.

Area 13 increases are 27 a hundredweight for class 1A and class 2, and 5 cents for class 3.

Doorstep milk prices in most eastern markets are now 14 and 15 cents a quart, the commission said.

With But One County Contest to Be Settled Citizens Are Slow in Going to Polls, Indicating Unusually Mild Interest

COMPARATIVE FIGURES

With but one county contest to stir up interest, voters in Warren borough today were slow in going to the polls, indicating that previous predictions of a light vote would prove accurate.

Between one and one-thirty o'clock this afternoon, a check-up at the eight polling places in the borough disclosed that only 937 persons had cast ballots during the first five hours of voting.

This total was nearly 250 less than at the same time four years ago when 1,182 persons had voted by 1:30. However, the 1937 primary had three county contests to attract the attention of the voters.

In 1933 the total at 1:30 was only 637, exactly 300 less than today's figure.

As usual, the fifth ward was the leader in the borough with 275 votes, while the first and sixth wards came next with 124 and 103, respectively. In the first and fifth wards, council contests helped to bring out the vote.

With 7,664 Republicans and Democrats registered in Warren borough, the number who had voted at 1:30 today was only a little over 12 percent of the total.

The polls throughout the county will remain open until nine o'clock tonight, daylight saving time. The official hours of voting are from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m., standard time, or 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. daylight saving time.

FRITZ WIEDEMANN IS IN SOUTH AMERICA

Rio De Janeiro, Sept. 9—(AP)—Less than two months after he was expelled from the United States with other Axis consular officials, Capt. Fritz Wiedemann is in South America on what he describes as "a special mission."

The former German consul-general at San Francisco arrived here last Friday aboard an Italian transAtlantic Lati passenger plane, it was disclosed yesterday. He said he would fly to Buenos Aires Wednesday.

Wiedemann, a close friend of Adolf Hitler, was among 500 Germans and Italians who sailed from New York for Libson aboard the U. S. navy transport West Point July 25 in an exchange of United States and Axis consular officials and their families.

WILLKIE SCORES SENATOR NYE AT MOVIE HEARING

Washington, Sept. 9—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie charged today, at the opening of a Senate committee inquiry into war propaganda, that Senator Nye (-ND) was seeking to "divide the American people into discordant racial and religous kroups in order to disunte them over the United States foreign policy."

Willkie, representing the motion picture industry at the hearing, made these charges in a formal statement handed to the press shortly after Nye began testifying on a resolution, by Nye and Senator Clark (D-Mo), proposing an investigation into propaganda.

Nye, appearing under oath after Chairman Clark (D-Idaho) had ruled that Willkie could not cross examine witnesses, asserted that four or five movie magnates held the power to feed propaganda to the American people.

The North Dakota senator, first witness at the hearing conducted by an Interstate Commerce subcommittee, contended that several films already have been released which "have served to drive some Americans under their very beds for fear of Hitler and his minions."

Denied the right to interrupt, Willkie passed reporters sitting nearby a mimeographed statement by way of reply to testimony given by Nye in a lengthy prepared statement the North Dakota senator was reading.

Willkie charged that Nye desired "to foster and create public prejudices against the motion picture industry, and thus attempt to high

HEIGHTENS CRISIS IN RELATIONS

Attack on Unarmed Merchantman in Red Sea, Considered Lease - Lend Route to the Middle East, Intensifies Breach Between the United States and Axis Powers on the Issue of Freedom of the Seas

SURVIVORS LAND ON WEST COAST OF SUEZ

BULLETIN

Berlin, Sept. 9—(AP)—The German High Command today said the Nazi air force in a Sunday night raid on "enemy ships in the gulf and roadstead of Suez" destroyed a 7,000-ton tanker and badly damaged five large merchantmen. There was no indication whether the ship which was sunk was the American vessel, Steel Seafarer, but authorized quarters said news of the sinking of an American ship in those waters should occasion no surprise since the area has been declared dangerous war zone by the Axis.

Washington, Sept. 9—(AP)—The State Department reported today that 24 crew members, including one American, were "presumably lost" in the torpedoing of a former Danish ship flying the Pan-American flag August 17 about 300 miles southwest of Iceland. News of the sinking, in which only three men aboard survived, came close on the heels of the sinking of the American freighter Steel Seafarer in Red Sea waters by an aerial bomb. British sources at Cairo blamed a German bomber based in Greece.

Cairo, Sept. 9—(AP)—The survivors of the American merchant steamer, Steel Seafarer, sunk in the Red Sea, were landed today on the western coast of the Gulf of Suez.

They had been picked up by a British warship. All aboard were saved.

Reliable British sources said a long-range German bomber operating from Greece sank the vessel.

The survivors were landed on the coast between the oil port of Hurghada and Dishet El Tabaa.

The Seafarer was attacked and sunk about midnight Sunday some 200 miles south of Suez.

Alerts were sounded the same night in northern Egypt but no bombs were dropped on Egyptian soil.

In the bright moonlight, the merchantman probably was an easy target.

The Steel Seafarer was the second ship attacked in the Red Sea by Axis aircraft. The first attack was made some days ago south of Suez but reliable sources said the bombed ship escaped untouched.

Washington, Sept. 9—(AP)—The sinking of an unarmed American merchantman in the Red Sea—lease-lend route to the Middle East—intensified the crisis in relations between the United States and the Axis powers today on the issue of freedom of the seas.

S. & T. APPEALS VIEWERS' AWARD

Pittsburgh, Sept. 9—(AP)—Attorneys for the Sheffield and Tionesta Railway Company today filed an appeal against an award of $106,000 as damages for 12.47 miles of railway right of way condemned by the government for a flood control project.

The company, which operates 33.5 miles of track between Sheffield, Warren county, to Nabraska, Forest county, contended that the award, made by viewers Aug. 14, was "grossly inadequate" and claimed damages of $200,000.

The 12.47 miles of right of way which extends from Nebraska to a point two miles south of Mayburg, Forest county, was condemned by the government last December 4, for the Tionesta creek reservoir.

Federal Judge Nelson McVicar granted the company's request for a trial by jury and ordered the government to answer the complaint within 20 days.

FAREWELL HELD FOR MINISTER AT YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville, Sept. 9—An enthusiastic crowd of well-wishers attended the farewell dinner given Monday evening to honor Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Dibble and Diana Dibble.

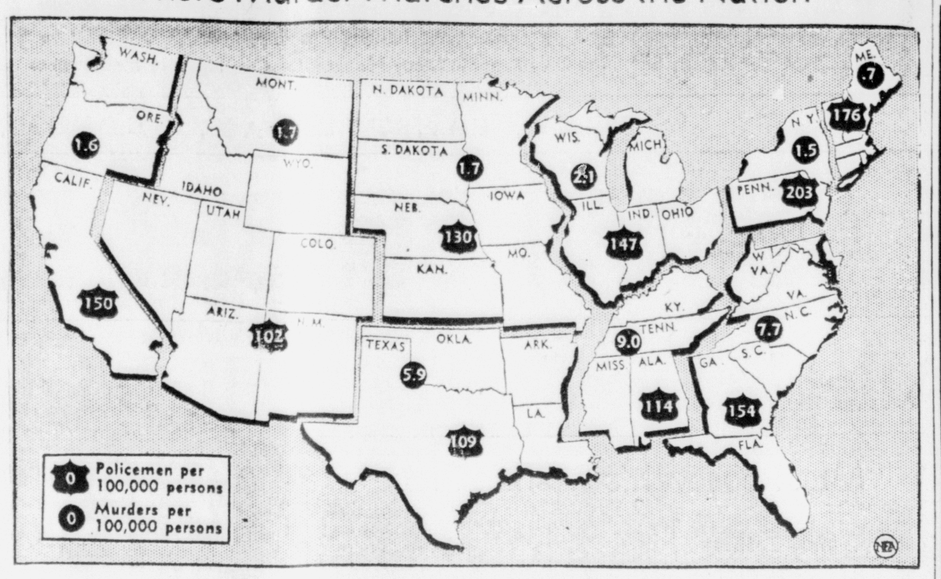

The affair was held in the United Brethren church and its popular young pastor was greeted not only by members of his own congregation, but by representatives of othre churches and organizations, all wishing him success as he takes up his new work at the First church in Buffalo, N. Y.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Ernest E. Johnson. Greetings were brought by Helen Johnson and Edna Sullivan, representing the Otterbein Guild and the Christian Endeavor. Miss Thelma McMillan spoke for the Mission Class, which was Mrs. Dibble's Sunday school class, and presented Mrs. Dibble with a gift.

Rev. Dwight Jack, of the Methodist church, represented the other churches of the town. Plummer Mourer spoke in behalf of the United Brethren church and, at the end of his remarks, presented Mr. and Mrs. Dibble with an electric clock and an occasional chair. Both Rev. and Mrs. Dibble responded to these greetings.

Other numbers on the program were a duet by the Misses Eva and Florence Goodwill, of Garland; monologue, by Mrs. Norma Haight; piano number, by Stuart Smith; reading, by Mrs. Dean Hyde; recitation, by Carl Goodwill, Jr.; piano number, by Helen Patch; and an electric guitar duet, by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Haight.

Factions Fight For Control

tory.

The Philadelphia voting opened spotty, with some election officials reporting no ballots cast during the first hours.

At Pittsburgh—which with Philadelphia holds one-third of the state's eligible 4,709,168 voters—the balloting also started off slowly. Both Democratic and Republican organizations there clashed over candidates for mayor.

No election disturbances were reported throughout the state.

Candidates were nominated for 65 places on the county judiciary and 96 communities in 35 counties voted on the question of permitting the retail sale of liquor and beer. In addition to Pittsburgh, Scranton and 20 third class cities selected candidates for mayor.

The Philadelphia and Pittsburgh fights for control of the party machinery had their parallel in some degree in other areas, but statewide interest centered in the metropolitan contests because of the concentration of voters in those two districts.

Pittsburgh Democrats were called upon to pass upon the leadership of David A. Lawrence, national committeeman and former state chairman in the mayoralty fight there. Lawrence supported Mayor Cornelius D. Scully for re-election with Register of Wills John M. Huston opposing Scully's bid for the Democratic nomination.

The organization-control issue was even more closely drawn on the Republican side, with State Chairman James F. Torrance placing the state organization behind County Chairman John S. Heddon.

The Republican contest also found James M. Duff, state committee member, and James F. Malone, Jr., nominee for state treasurer last year, in opposite camps.

Herron and Duff supported George D. Wick for mayor while Malone got behind Harmar Denny, Jr., one-time Pittsburgh public safety director.

Torrance, as the campaign drew to a close, promised Herron "the fullest possible assistance" from the state organization. U. S. Senator James J. Davis also entered the Herron camp, taking the stump for Robert J. Corbett, seeking the nomination for sheriff on the Herron-Duff slate. Cohbett is manager of the senator's Pittsburgh office.

Senator Davis, however, in Philadelphia declared for the insurgent group, led by William J. Hamilton, Jr., former state secretary of revenue. Senator Davis in a declaration for the Hamilton candidates, said he favored an open primary because it develops leadership and "prevents dangerous concentration of power."

Throughout the primary campaign, P. Stephen Stahlnecker, head of a movement to reorganize the Republican state leadership, remained in the background. Stahlnecker, prominent in Republican politics for years, resigned a $9,000 state job during the summer to organize the movement. While Stahlnecker visited many sections of the state he said his group was looking ahead exclusively to next year and was not participating in this year's campaign.

forecasts largely on last Thursday's submarine attack on the U. S. destroyer Greer, said that if the president does make those points, Germany would have to choose one of two courses:

The Reich either would have to risk air and naval clashes with U. S. Atlantic fleet units in a region far from the Nazi bases on the mainland of Europe, or else Berlin would have to abandon sea war operations completely in the waters between the United States and Iceland.

The freighter sinking, it was acknowledged, considerably broadened the question.

Leveling Off In Polio Cases Is Announced

Classes were delayed one week in the Pine Grove township high school, Warren County, when a case of the disease was discovered in a family sending its children to the school. The Roosevelt public school in Carbondale was also ordered closed until the building could be fumigated after it was found that one of the students had been stricken with the disease.

In Erie county, two new "suspected" cases were listed to bring to four the number of persons believed ill with the disease.

Flight Training Is Completed By C. P. T. Students; Enjoy Dinner

Floating Forts

Two types of barrage balloons float above Camp Davis, N. C., where Army tests are underway to determine efficiency of big gas bags as defenders against bombers.

Flight training has been completed by the fourteen members of the last Civilian Pilot Training Class at the Warren Airport and all passed their flight tests with excellent grades, it was reported today.

The event was celebrated with a dinner at the Pittsfield Inn last Saturday night, given by the students for the instructors. Those present were Jim Miller, Harold Johnson, Ned Perry, Jess Perry, Harry Green, Robert Branstrom, Robert Lesser, John Cogswell, Burdette McCool, Mr. and Mrs. V. S. King, Mr. and Mrs. Henry O. Walker.

Jim Miller presented Mrs. Walker with "Safety in Flight" by Jordanoff and Mr. King a cigarette lighter as remembrances from the students to the instructors. All reported an excellent time.

About thirty planes landed at the Warren Airport last Sunday, enroute to and from the breakfast at Jamestown. This same idea is to be carried out in Warren next Sunday in conjunction with the Retailers-for-Defense week of the local Chamber of Commerce. Favorable weather is hoped for, as much time and work is being spent to make the affair a success.

It is not too soon to be thinking of signing up for the next C. P. T. ground school, which should begin in January. This primary training received at the Warren Airport is the first step toward the airlines, the army or navy air corps, or life as an instructor.

Several local boys are taking advanced training. Bud Maier is now at Camden, S. C., taking the refresher course for the army. He will soon be instructing a group of English boys. Lloyd Porter has had his secondary training and is waiting for assignment to the army air corps.

Of the last class, Bob Lesser and Robert Branstrom have been accepted for secondary training under the college phase and will receive their training at Meadville. In secondary training the boys fly army primary training ships, Waco or Stearman. Three or four more of the flight class will be recommended for advanced training under the non-college phase and those boys will receive 17 weeks at Uniontown, where they will finish with a commercial license and an instructor's rating.

Interest in Drive Here Next Week Is Continuing to Rise

Interest in the "Retailers for Defense" project next week is growing rapidly, according to a report from H. B. Pettit, chairman of the committee in charge. He lists the following establishments as participants in the sale of Defense Saving Stamps to customers during the week: Brown's Boot Shops, Inc., Gnagey Grocery, Valone Cleaners, Mader Motor Sales.

"The response to our request of yesterday for hosts to entertain visiting aviators at breakfast next Sunday morning has already begun," he states. "This morning generous contributions came from Metzger-Wright Company, Community Consumer Discount Company, and Postmaster J. K. Bell. If every one who takes pride in putting Warren's best foot forward will contribute, these visitors will carry home favorable publicity for our community."

DELEGATES HERE AT CONFERENCE OF MTHODISTS

Among the 500 ministerial and lay delegates expected to be in attendance for the third annual session of the Methodist Erie Conference at Allegheny College in Meadville this week are a number representing churches of that denomination in Warren.

Named from First church are Dr. T. E. Colley, pastor; Alan H. Templeton, delegate; E. W. Smiley, alternate. Dr. J. H. Clemens, pastor of Grace church, reports that Roy M. Krebs is delegate and Lewis W. Garber, alternate. At Epworth church, Rev. M. I. Harding's delegate is John Anderson, with Bert Woodruff as alternate. Others of the various congregations will also attend certain of the sessions.

Warren is particularly interested in this year's conference, since it is anticipated that Dr. Clemens' retirement will take place and that Grace church will have a new pastor. The popular pastor has purchased a home at 200 McPherson street and will continue to make his home in Warren.

It is also expected that Dr. H. H. Barr, of Kane, will retire this fall and will come to Warren to reside at 13 Hertzel street. Since leaving Grace church here, Dr. Barr has served in Titusville, Grove City, Franklin, a six-year term as superintendent of the Jamestown District and residence in that city and, most recently, the Kane church.

Others who are expected to retire at this conference session are Rev. S. H. Barlett, of Parkers Landing, who once served Kinzua and Corydon charges; Dr. J. A. Lyons, of DuBois, who was at Youngsville from 1915 to 1920; and Dr. F. H. Frampton, of Chicora, who was at Byromtown in 1899 and at Ashville, N. Y., from 1912 to 1914.

The conference opened this afternoon at three o'clock with a meeting of the board of ministerial training and, at 7:30 o'clock this evening, there will be a session for conference boards and commissions. The conference proper, presided over by Bishop James H. Straughn, of Pittsburgh, will get under way tomorrow morning and will continue through next Sunday, when appointments will be read. Those planning to attend the sessions are reminded that all are on eastern standard time.

Meadville, Sept. 9.—(AP)—The six-day annual conference of the Erie district, Methodist church, opened today with ministers and lay delegates, representing 400 churches and congregations of 200,000 members, in attendance.

Headquarters were established at Allegheny College, acting as co-host with Meadville's three Methodist churches. Bishop James H. Straughn of Pittsburgh, was the presiding officer.

The conference extends from the Ohio state line to the vicinity of Kane, Ridgway and DuBois, and from the lake shore in western New York to the Mahoning creek near New Castle.

The Rev. G. Ray Jordan, of Charlotte, N. C.; will speak at a meeting of the Itinerants' Club, whose members are ordained ministers, and Dr. Schuyler Garth, of Youngstown, O., will address a youth conference on Saturday.

With Our Boys In Virginia

Fredericksburg, Va., Sept. 9.—(AP)—The old 28th Division of World War days cannot have any reason to be ashamed of its 1941 counterpart, Acting Commander Edward J. Stackpole, Jr., declared after Pennsylvania's troops joined in repelling a theoretical enemy advancing against Washington, D. C.

The 28th's first field exercise in which the complete division has engaged showed "certain weaknesses of which everyone was aware," said General Stackpole, "but it also demonstrated that the division as a whole and its component parts is capable of functioning smoothly and efficiently."

He spoke for Major General Edward Martin who was attending a meeting of division commanders of the Second Army at Governor's Island, N. Y. General Martin was expected to resume command today as the division took up a new problem lasting until Thursday morning and the last field exercise of the 28th before it returns to its home base at Indiantown Gap.

The division's maneuvers yesterday which drew commendation from General Stockpole involved defense of the left flank of the Second Army against which position the invading green army theoretically was exerting great pressure. The Pennsylvania troops started out with a defensive position along a four-mile front.

Another division of the Second Army, stationed in theory to the right of the 28th, was driven back by two enemy divisions. A division of invaders then launched an attack against the 28th, which put all units of the 53rd Field Artillery brigade into action and held two infantry regiments in reserve.

The first battalion of the 109th Infantry was called upon to make counter attacks to prevent envelopment of the 28th's left flank by the enemy, but heavy pressure along the central front of the 56th Brigade forced the 28th back in the center.

Six airplanes of the 103rd Observation Squadron took part in the maneuvers, serving artillery missions and simulating dive bombing. A provisional battalion of the 71st anti-aircraft artillery of Fort Story, Va., also joined in working out the problem.

OMINOUS SIGNS!

Americans should keep their eyes on Iceland for there, more than at any other spot, is likely to occur The event that will plunge us into a shooting war with Hitler.

It was not long ago a German bomber suddenly appeared over the island, and last week an American destroyer enroute to Iceland had an encounter with a Nazi submarine.

When the bomber appeared over Iceland British planes took to the air and the German airmen lost themselves in the clouds. But suppose a German warplane appears some day after the British have departed and only Americans are guarding the island? Will the U. S. flyers go after the visitor? If they do, will they fire on him?

On the action our air corps takes at such a time as that may depend on whether we enter the fray. Or, is Hitler anxious to avoid a brush with the United States as to keep his planes away from Iceland, and his subs away from our destroyers, after we start to keep watch without the aid of Britain?

At any rate, war experts are watching Iceland. Headline news is apt to come from that frozen waste one of these days, news that will affect the lives of everyone in United States for years to come.

News of the sinking of the American freighter Steel Seafarer as given out in Washington last evening does not make the situation look any brighter.

In the absence of more specific information, the assumption is that she was a lease-lend cargo vessel, since all American ships plying the Red Sea route carry lease-lend shipments, and her attacker was a long-range German or Italian bomber operating from a Mediterranean base.

It will be recalled that on April 11 President Roosevelt opened the Red Sea to American shipping by cancelling the combat zone in the Indian Ocean which had blocked its approaches until the British campaign which swept the Italians from the adjoining east coast of Africa. At the time, Mr. Roosevelt indicated that, if necessary, vessels plying that route would get armed protection, because that was the law of the United States when ships were not operating in combat zones.

A month later, May 13, Germany formally proclaimed the northern part of the Red Sea an official war zone, where every ship "exposed itself to destruction by mines or other weapons of war."

The attack, Washington sources assert, might be found to constitute "piracy" as defined by Mr. Roosevelt in his message to congress denouncing German tactics in torpedoing the American flag ship Robin Moor in the South Atlantic May 21.

These latest "incidents" add new significance to the address that the chief executive is scheduled to deliver Thursday evening.

NO TIME TO BECOME EXCITED

The fact that infantile paralysis has been discovered in the county is no justification for any person to become unduly alarmed. Every precaution is being taken by health officials, so far as possible, to segregate the patient, and there is no reason to fear a general outbreak.

One example of what a mild hysteria will do is seen in the fact that rumors, which were without any foundation whatever, spread this morning to the effect that a new case had been quarantined by the local county health officials.

The situation, however, does justify the exercise of just a little more than ordinary caution, especially where children are concerned. Keep them in the open as much as possible, and at the first sign of illness call a physician, no matter how slight the ailment may be.

If you don't buy that winter supply of coal before the prices soar sky high don't say we haven't warned you plenty.

If you haven't voted when you read this you'll have time if you duck out to the polling place and get there before nine o'clock.

Around New York

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—It's like this:

The gin rummy craze on Broadway has spread even to the juvenile actors over at "Watch on the Rhine," which indicates just how simple an indoor sport it really is . . . George Coulouris of that show says, "If they play it in Hollywood it has to be simple."

R. Howard Lindsay and just plain Howard Lindsay are in no sense related—they never have even shaken hands—though both are past masters of the art of cuning whodunit thrillers . . . R. Howard Lindsay is the author of that blood-curdler "Fowl Murder," published by Little Brown and Company. Just plain Howard Lindsay is co-producer of "Arsenic and Old Lace."

We've come to Paul Lukas now. More than once this corner has talked about the fine piece of acting he does in that fine piece of stage writing, "Watch on the Rhine" . . . But I never knew until the other day how Herman Shumlin came to cast him as the star . . . That wasn't Shumlin's original intention at all . . . He went out to Hollywood to interview Lukas and ask him to play the heavy . . . "Heavy hell," cried Shumlin five minutes after he had shaken hands with Lukas, "you're the star."

A FRIEND of mine took the train recently at Darien, Conn. But a drawbridge was stuck somewhere up the line, and the train was more than an hour late, and my friend decided to explore the platform.

Boris Karloff was sitting there in a tan gaberdine suit reading, his face almost mahogany, his hair peculiarly straight and rather dead looking. Disconcertingly, he looked just the same on the station platform as he had in "Arsenic and Old Lace," my friend decided, and put him out of his mind.

Almost. In a minute he noticed a strange stillness on the platform. Children who normally would have been shinnying up the nearest pole were quiet. Women who normally would have been gabbing were silent. Men who looked to be over-stuffed with smoking car stories stalked eerily about, smoking too much. Even the sparrows held their tongues.

Then my friend looked again at Karloff. He was still there, still reading, the same leg crossed over its mate. For an hour he moved only once; that was to look up the track where there was no train. His face showed no annoyance, no interest, nothing. He said nothing. He sat.

This hush was not the result of seeing a celebrity. Darien is full of celebrities. My friend thought for a while, and then the answer came to him, quick like a fox.

This was merely Boris Karloff's living. He is Karloff, and he throws a lovely, non-rustling pall even off-stage, and he collects a nice regular paycheck. But it was pretty quiet.

Graf Zeppelin Shown In Paraguayan Stamp

GERMANY'S famous Graf Zeppelin is honored by Paraguay in the 1933 stamp above. One of the Zeppelin series, it shows the airship flying over Paraguayan terrain.

The Graf Zeppelin was decommissioned in 1937 after her sister ship, the Hindenburg, blew up at Lakehurst, N. J. The Graf Zeppelin was placed in service in 1928, traveled over a million miles and crossed the Atlantic 143 times, mainly in commercial trips to and from South America.

Paraguay is one of the two inland countries of South America but has an excellent outlet to Buenos Aires through the Paraguay river. This river is navigable for vessels of 12-foot draft as far as Asuncion. Smaller boats can travel the entire length of the river—some 1800 miles.

Air mail and passenger services connect Asuncion and Buenos Aires, and the government has established an aviation school there.

A WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By Sigrid Arne

(Pinch-Hitting For Jack Stinnett)

WASHINGTON—There's quite a brawl brewing here over the oily subject of butter versus margarine.

It's no new brawl. The current fracas dates from spring, when a committee on food and nutrition met to devise new methods for feeding America better with the hope of making the citizens stronger. The problem is part of the defense program so far as Washington is concerned.

The committee issued, among other things, a sample day's diet which would furnish the necessary vitamins and minerals, and still would cost only 32 cents for the three meals. The menus—all three of them—mention margarine, but not butter.

That prompted the Consumers' Counsel of the Department of Agriculture to arrange one of its weekly radio programs for a discussion of margarine.

One of the characters on the program said: "Many people are finding out they can save quite a bit of money by using margarine instead of butter. It's quite a lot cheaper. . . .

"Both butter and margarine are chiefly fat. By law or government rules, both must be at least 80 percent fat. Butter is made from the fat from cream. And margarine, according to new standards just set up, can be made from animal fat or oil, or vegetable fat or oil, or a combination. . . .

"There's little to choose between the various kinds of pure fats. They are all, more or less, equally digestible, and equally rich in fuel value."

Propaganda, Says Andresen

THAT brought Rep. August H. Andresen of Minnesota to his feet on the House floor. His state, in 1940, earned $68,000,000 from butter.

Andresen spoke of the program as "government sponsored propaganda" and called it "virtually a conspiracy against the farmers."

He said the radio performers did their level best to put over the idea that oleomargarine, under the new formula promulgated by the food and drug administration, was equal if not superior to butter in food value, and added that "they boldly urged consumers to buy oleo instead of butter."

Andresen asserted that in the past decade he has seen much of "the subversive work of lavendar lawyers, pink economists, and mauve home economic ladies."

He demanded an investigation, and further, he wanted the Department of Agriculture to stop its employees from "scuttling of American dairy farmers."

The Other Side

REP. W. R. POAGE of Texas arose to remind his fellow members that there is another set of American farmers quite interested in the popularity of margarine—the men who supply the fats and oils, such as livestock men and soy-bean growers.

So the fat is in the fire, quite literally. A group of retailers are rattling around Washington asking that a tax on margarine be removed.

Don't be surprised if that margarine tax argument turns into a serious defense matter. That's the way these Washington brawls develop.

FOREST COUNTY INVENTORY NOW READY TO SELL

Tionesta, Sept. 8—Copies of the nventory of Forest County Recds", publication of which was onsored by the County Commisoners, are available to the public nominal cost, J. H. Douglas, ember of that body, declared day. This is a volume prepared the Pennsylvania Historical rvey, a program of the Work rojects Administration.

A book of some 200 pages, this idently is a new approach to the udy of county government; and rtainly it is the first guidebook er seen that shows just where find what you are looking for the archives. It is an inventory the true sense of the word, for lists the many assortments of lumes, dockets and other coniners; gives the general nature each group; and shows the ronological sequence of its connts.

As to the light it throws on lol government, it should be pointout that the work includes esys, one for each county office; id one treating of the evolution county government as it exists Pennsylvania today. The indidual essays deal with the history the various Forest county ofes. Here is a wealth of materl for those seeking a clearer unrstanding of the powers and ties of any such office; and r the teacher and student of vics. Each important statement documented for the benefit of aders who may wish to inquire rther into the subject.

The book includes many other atures, notable among which are e following: a historical essay of neral nature; a chronological inx to the entries (list of archives ntents) for the benefit of perns whose object of inquiry has specific time range; a bibliography of the works consulted; d a subject index of exceptional erit.

Let us see how the arrangeent works. Suppose the inquirer interested in the subject of damges awarded in connection with ad construction in 1850. In the ronological index he notes that ly two entries relate to the perd 1841-1850. At least his labors e confined within easy limits. he entries are numbered 176 and 7. Now turning to these entries ntries are arranged in numerel sequence) he finds that 176 rers to 8 file boxes of sundry maerial on roads, and 176 to 2 volnes on the subject. Both assortents are arranged chronologicly by court term, but are not dexed. In each case the records mmence with 1850. He must exmine all the records for that ar in order to learn whether or ot they include the object of his arch. But he has had the benet of learning in advance the ope of the material immediately eful to him, and has lost no time doing so. Now had his inquiry lated to documents of 1845, for ample, it will be seen from the ove that he would have learned ith equal facility the uselessness search for them.

Resignation of Sixth Ward Council Member Accepted; Name Successor

At the September meeting of the Warren borough council, held last evening in the municipal building, the resignation of W. Herbert Murphy as one of the two representatives from the sixth ward was received and Carter H. Rowland, of Dartmouth street, was named as his successor.

Mr. Murphy, who has served less than half of his four-year term, resigned because he has accepted a position out of the city. Mr. Rowland was named to complete the unepired term, which ends on the first Monday in January, 1944.

The appointment was made upon recommendation of Mr. Murphy, the resolution being presented by George H. Klinestiver, second councilman from the ward.

Except for this matter, most of the business of the session, which was adjourned from the previous Monday because of Labor Day, was of a routine nature.

A resolution was adopted, leasing the Warren Airport to Virgil S. King for a period of two years. Previously the lease had been held by Warren Airways, Inc., which surrendered its lease. Mr. King is to pay the borough five percent of his gross receipts, plus $8.33 a month for use of the apartment over the hangar.

A resolution also was adopted, granting the Manufacturers Gas Company a right-of-way across the eastern end of the airport.

The new projects committee was authorized to purchase bituminous binder material for the Irvine street paving project at a cost of not more than $500 and bituminous top surface material at a cost not to exceed $500.

The public service and ordnance committee was granted permission to purchase two new six-inch hydrants at a cost not to exceed $200.

Upon resolution by Councilman Glenn Stone, it was decided to move a street light from the corner of Crescent Park and Onondaga avenue to the corner of Seneca and St. Clair streets.

It was reported by the finance committee that $7,225 had been received from the state as the return from liquor licenses in the borough. It was also decided to turn over to the Firemen's Relief Association the sum of $1,945.26, received from foreign fire insurance taxes to the state.

The matter of accepting Watson Place as a borough street was presented by Councilman Robert Trusler, but the matter was deferred until the next regular meeting.

Councilman E. W. Patchen presented the police report, showing the number of arrests during the month to be 56. He also reported that a total of $1,131.17 was received from parking meters during the month, of which $361.77 is to be paid to the company which installed the meters.

H. S. Hampson, of the fire committee, reported 16 calls during the month with a total fire loss of $125.

It was reported by Councilman W. R. Walsh that nine building permits were issued during the month, with $21.33 in fees received. Councilman Trusler reported $13.90 received from the borough scales. A report on attendance at the playgrounds during the summer was presented by Councilman Roy Krebs.

Bills amounting to $11,065.92 were ordered paid adn payment of $6,675 from the sinking fund was approved.

Councilmen present at the meeting included President F. W. Waite, R. M. Krebs, C. A. Miller, E. W. Patchen, G. P. Stone, D. L. Baldensperger, W. R. Walsh, D. W. Lewis, G. H. Klinestiver, H. S. Hampson, R. H. Trusler and J. G. Smith. Also present were Solicitor S. D. Blackman, Secretary Marjorie L. Dougherty, Engineer C. W. Barwis, Street Commissioner E. T. Beck and Fire Chief D. G. Kropf.

Dr. Robert E. Wilson, oil consultant to the National Defense Advisory Commission, has asked that minimum military stocks of 1,000,000 barrels of aviation fuel be accumulated, working up to a variable maximum of 10,000,000 to 20,000,000 barrels.

Europeans regard the celery root as a delicacy; Americans commonly discard this part of the plant.

Great Saving in Defense Metals Being Made by Bell Telephone Co.

A saving of more than five million pounds of metals vital to defense needs, including enough aluminum to build more than 275 fighter planes, is being effected by the Bell System this year through a materials substitution program, H. O. McGrath, district manager for the telephone company, said today.

"Made possible through long range planning, research and readjustments in manufacturing," Mr. McGrath declared, "the substituting of materials in 1941 will divert for use in defense work nearly 1,700,000 pounds of aluminum; almost a third of a million pounds of nickel; well over three million pounds of zinc, and 8,300 pounds of magnesium." He foresees additional reductions for 1942.

The Western Electric Company, manufacturing arm of the system, now saves 65 tons of aluminum annually by replacing aluminum with steel in the "finger wheel" on dial telephones. This is only one of many items of telephone equipment in which aluminum is being replaced by other materials. The total saving of aluminum is enough to build more than 275 military planes other than bombers, or half as many bombers, in accordance with the estimate of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America that the average non-bomber requires three tons of aluminum and the average bomber six tons.

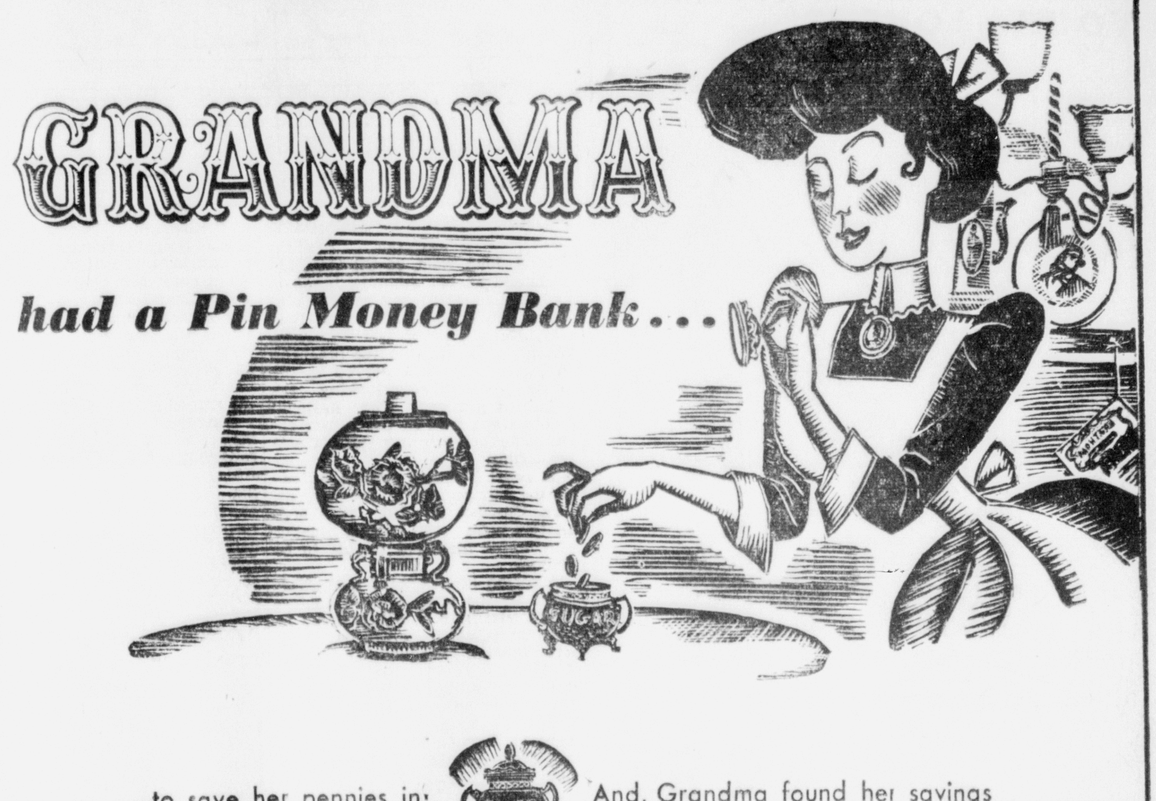

The use of zinc is being substantially reduced by coating much of the hardware used on telephone pole lines with lead, instead of putting these products through a galvanizing process. Also, less zinc is being used in the production of new telephones.

Since 1925, the Bell System has been studying how to make the most effective use of materials. Immediately after the outbreak of war in 1939, a survey was made of critical materials particularly used in the telephone system and efforts to determine suitable substitutes were initiated.

Because of the many factors involved in the introduction of substitutes—processing, engineering, materials and new procedures—the system will be faced with an inevitable rise in manufacturing costs as a direct result.

Efforts to conserve vital materials reach to all parts of the system. Telephone companies throughout the country are using much old equipment which might normally be replaced, so that new equipment may be used at other locations where the need is greater. Dial installations in some communities are being deferred, used switchboards are being reused, cables are being resheathed and reused.

Supplementing the Bell System's substitution and conservation program are the reclamation activities it has been carrying on since 1931, when the Nassau Smelting and Refining Company last year supplied the system with more than 42,000,000 pounds of metal. This was obtained chiefly from non-ferrous metals in outworn equipment, structures, and supplies junked by the operating telephone companies. The reclaimed metal included about 12,000,000 pounds of copper wire bar, more than 18,000,000 pounds of lead alloy for cable sheathing, some 2,000,000 pounds of lead sleeving for cable splices, over 5,000,000 pounds of bronze wire bar, some 500,000 pounds of brass billets, over 3,000,000 pounds of solder in various forms, and more than 373,000 pounds of redistilled slab zinc. This year's totals are expected to mount considerably higher

My! What a Day!

It takes more than a storm, steps and heckling to stop Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt from grabbing her skirts and making her appointed rounds—this time in Pittsburgh, where she talked with Democratic leaders, held a press conference, attended a luncheon, inspected an NYA center, dedicated a housing project, was honor guest at a tea and then made the main address at a "Youth in Democracy" rally. This picture was made as she rushed for shelter at the housing project.

TRAIN HITS TIE

Bristol, Pa., Sept. 9—(AP)—The engineers of a Pennsylvania Railroad local passenger train enroute to Philadelphia told police he saw a man in a lumberjacket flee from the right of way a half-mile south here where the power car of the electrified train plowed over a creosoted tie and iron ballast fork laid across the rails. The train jerked to a sudden stop and the crew found the power car's front wheels cut through the tie and the big ballast fork, used to shovel stone. The car was not derailed.

AVOID BIG DOCTOR BILLS

BY PAUL BRAUNSCHWEIGER
of the Mullen Drug Co.

Nothing is more certain than at one time or another every one is going to need the consultation of a physician. Often the postponement of this visit, allowing the slow ravages of a malady to progress, builds up a big bill to pay, not only in painful and slow convalescence, but in money.

In the majority of cases these big bills could have been avoided. "You have waited too long" is a severe indictment and one that only you can defray in pain and in financial stress.

See your doctor at least once a year in good health. Oftener if there is the slightest threat to well being.

Refer his prescription to a competent druggist.

BROOKLYN NOW 7-2 FAVORITE TO HOLD CURRENT LEAD AND TANGLE WITH YANKEES FOR WORLD TITLE

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Even the bookmakers finally have discovered Brooklyn is still in the National League.

For the first time since the pennant pot started to sizzle, the West 49th street betting booths in Pa Knickerbocker's village have put the Brooklyns up as favorites to hang onto their three-game lead through the last western whirl they start today, and go on to the championship.

Convinced at last that maybe "the Bums" can finish in front of the St. Louis Cardinals, the bookies not only took the favorite's spot away from the Gas Housers, but skyrocketed the Dodgers into the choice's chair at odds-on in the wagering.

On the latest prices, you have to lay $3.50 to win $1 if you like Brooklyn. On the other hand, if you're still stringing along with old St. Loo, you can get $2.50 for each $1 you put up. The $1 difference is what is known as the bookies' spread.

What finally convinced the betting boys was not only the three-game edge the daffiness boys built up, but also the fact that the schedule the rest of the way definitely leans far over in Brooklyn's favor.

Looking beyond the action for the next couple of days (the Cards tangle with the Pathetic Phillies and the Brooklyns work on the Chicago Cubs) you come right up and say howdy to the hot Dodger-Cardinal series Thursday, Friday and Saturday in St. Louis. If things Thursday are still as they are today, the Missouri Mudcats must sweep that set in order to come charging back into the fight.

Both leagues took a holiday yesterday.

Washington, Pa., Sept. 9—(AP)—Sammy Angott, the NBA Lightweight Boxing Champion, displayed his prowess as a professional for the first time to his home town friends last night and disposed of Pete Galiano, of Baltimore, by a technical knockout in the sixth of their scheduled ten round bout.

Sammy, weighing 135, two pounds less than his opponent, never was in difficulty and had his man down twice in the sixth before Referee Freddy Mastrean stopped the contest. It was Angott's fiftieth ring conquest against four defeats and drew the applause of 1,600 fans at the baseball park.

ALICE MARBLE ASKING WOMEN TO WALK MORE

Philadelphia, Sept. 9—(AP)—Feminine America is going to do a lot of walking if Blonde Alice Marble has the same success in her new role of toughening women for defense as she's had on the tennis lot.

"Park the car a mile or so from the movie, your place of business and other spots," she urged the nation's womenfolk today. "Walk to the grocers. Start walking from half-mile to mlie distances, then increase it to miles and week-end hikes of 15 to 20."

But walking is just one of the former amateur net queen's ideas as assistant director of civilian detense. To make women physically fit during the emergency, she also suggests rope jumping, calisthenics, bycycle riding, bowling and all sorts of athletic games, faithfully carried out five days a week.

"We are interested in simple things, not costly, for nationwide interest among all ages," declares the 28-year-old Miss Marble. "We do not know from what age we will start from but there will be no limit. Women between 30 and 40 are vital for the work and influence they will have on their families. The same holds true of the older women."

Here to talk over her plans with John B. Kelly, national director of physical training in the Hale America program, Miss Marble said her chief aim during the next few weeks would be to find people in every hamlet to carry out her vast undertaking.

37 Eastern Ladies Qualify in Tourney

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 9—(AP)—The east's solid ranks in the women's national golf championship are due to suffer a severe shattering today when the 64 survivors engage in the opening round match play at the Country Club.

A total of 37 easterners managed to qualify by carding 89 or better yesterday when Defending Champion Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., launched her campaign for her third straight title by finishing in a four-way tie for the medalist honors. Today 22 of those victors were paired.

Sharing the spotlight with the attractive Texas miss were three competent eastern rivals who also managed to post three-over 76s for their qualifying tests, Grace Amory, of Locust Valley, N. Y., Jean Bauer, the Rhode Island champion, and Alice Belanger from nearby Beverly.

Landing gears constructed for super-dreadnaughts of the air are tested in a tower built 35 feet high. Fitted to the tester on a special carriage loaded with pig lead, the landing gear is raised to a predetermined height and dropped. This test formerly requiring two hours can be completed in about four minutes.

Giant, long-range bombardment airplanes weighing 100 tons or more are now in the design stage.

NAME GOLFERS ENTER PHILADELPHIA MEET

Philadelphia, Sept. 9—(AP)—Virtually every name golfer in the land, amateur and professional, is listed among the 87 entries announced for the $7,500 Henry A. Hurst invitation golf tournament at Torresdale-Frankford Country Club next week.

Craig Wood and Vic Ghezzi, national open and PGA champions respectively, head the sharpshooters who will compete in the richest golf test ever held in the Philadelphia district. Then there's Byron Nelson, Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, Gene Sarazen, Corporal Ed (Porky) Oliver, Ralph Guldahl, Harry Cooper, Dick Metz, Horton Smith, Lawson Little, Paul Runyan, Denny Shute and a host of other pro stars.

Marvin (Bud) Ward, newly crowned king of the amateurs, tops the simon pure contingent which also includes Dick Chapman, last year's amateur titleholder, Charley Yates, Ray Billots, Tommy Tailor and Willie Turnesa.

Three-dimensional drawings that give each workman in the aircraft factory a clear view of the manufacturing details are helping to speed airplane production.

Rated Repeater

Betty Jameson, of San Antonio, is favored to win third consecutive women's national amauter golf championship at Brookline, Mass.

SPORT SPATTERINGS

EAGLES "BOYCOTTED" AROUND SMOKY CITY BECAUSE OF POWER, BUT WARREN WILL GIVE THEM GOOD BRISK WORKOUT

Eight of the eleven starters on the Garfield Eagles are former college stars from some of the largest negro universities in the country and own reputations individually that draw a crowd at the box office just to see them play. Probably the greatest of the host of stars on the club is "Ink" Wilson, who gained All-American mention while at Morris-Brown College in Atlanta in 1939. Wilson is a center and the pivot man rates with any for alert play, dependable passes and strong line play. He's been with the Eagles one season and is coming up for the second campaign. Invaluable on defense and a great blocker on offense, Wilson can be pointed to as being partly responsible, at least, for many of last year's Eagle triumphs. Garfield has grown into such a strong club in the past two years that they are beginning to get the popular "boycott" from other teams in the Smoky City district. Unable to top the Eagles, many teams, to save their own reputations and box office power, will not book the colored boys. But the Red Jackets have always been known for accepting any or all takers, win, lose or draw, and the Eagles will find a game, a hard one, here on Sunday.

The West Point Cadets wouldn't find anything harder if they went across the puddle and shook hands with Hitler's forces than they will tangle with this fall in the form of a football schedule. Uncle Sam's boys of the land will probably get a real taste, more than once, of the good earth when they mix with such grid powers as Yale, Columbia, Notre Dame, Harvard, Penn, West Virginia and Navy. Brother, those aren't high schools, and Red Blaik, new coach and first civilian coach to handle an Army team in 30 years, knows this well. He's got one of the smallest Army squads in years to work with and last year's plebes didn't even offer him a good candidate for water boy, other than Henry Romanek, 192-pound guard, which doesn't exactly make him a giant for that position, and Halfback Ralph Hill. But the redhead doesn't promise to win more than half, possibly not that many of the nine-game schedule. The Army will take more than one bump on its schnozzle, and will come plowing back for more. But if the typical fight is there, look for Army to do some surprising.

Week's grid-ironing . . . With the season ticket sale well over the seventy mark, the Jackets have another reason for making this a season that will tower above all others in the past . . . And with Coach Reese, capable mentor who was handling the same job twenty and twenty-one years ago this season, holding the reins, they should easily make their mark in the record books . . . Plenty of beef for a forward wall, and plenty of speed in the pony backfield . . . However, this year's backs won't be quite as light as they were last year, for, while they're practically the same players, all of them have added weight since last season . . . There were over thirty changes in high school coaches made before this season got under way officially this past weekend . . . And four of them hit close to home: at Kane, Sheffield, Oil City and Erie . . . Not to mention Youngsville and Kinzua in the smaller schools . . . Billy Conn laughs at Lou Nova's chances of beating Joe Louis . . . But it may be a laughing prayer that Lou doesn't cop the title before Billy gets another chance . . . Please take note, that isn't our personal opinion, just a hunch.

Bradford Bees Play Red Wings for Cup

The Bradford Bees, who finished in second place in the PONY League pennant race this season, last night defeated Batavia in the deciding game of their five game series in the semi-finals of the playoffs under the Shaughnessey system for the Governor's Cup by a score of 1-0.

A home run in the seventh inning brought the only marker and placed the Bees in the finals against Hamilton, winners over the champions, Jamestown's Falcons, in their semi-final series.

Tonight and tomorrow evening the Red Wings will play in Bradford in the first two games of the best-in-seven series for the trophy. Friday, Saturday and Sunday, if the last date is necessary, the teams will play in Hamilton.

KAPLAN LOSES TO MONTGOMERY IN HARD BOUT

Philadelphia, Sept. 9—(AP)—Bob Montgomery has demonstrated again why he is considered Philadelphia's greatest lightweight since the days of Lew Tendler back in the early 1920's.

Battered around for nearly five rounds by Boston's Mike Kaplan before 12,000 at Shibe Park last night Montgomery came roaring from behind in the sixth to floor Kaplan twice for no counts and followed through in the eighth and ninth to gain an unanimous 10-round decision.

His lips cut and bleeding by Kaplan's jabs in the early rounds Montgomery turned the tables in quick order from the fifth on. During the eighth and ninth he raised lumps on Kaplan's face, drew blood to his opponent's lips and at the end had ringsiders wondering how Kaplan managed to go the distance.

A 6 to 5 favorite before the bout, Montgomery gave away 7½ pounds. He weighed 136 pounds to Kaplan's 143½.

BRUTAL BEATING CHARGED

Easton, Sept. 9—(AP)—Osville and Arthur Schegel of nearby East Bangor, who admitted beating two-year-old Osville Schegel Jr., so severely he spent more than a month in the hospital, were sentenced to one and a half to seven years in prison by Judge Frank P. McCluskey who commented: "It's a long, long time since we had such a brutal exhibition of child beating in this county." Dr. L. E. Schuster said the child was beaten into unconsciousness with a strap, various toys and a shovel.

SEASON TICKET SALE POINTS TO LARGE CROWD FOR INITIAL RED JACKET TILT AGAINST GARFIELD

With less than a week to go before the opening game with the Garfield Eagles, crack Pittsburgh colored aggregation of ex-colored stars, the sale of ten dollar season tickets for the Warren Red Jackets football games is proceding at the same merry clip as the nightly practices held by the football team on Beaty field.

That Warren fans have a strong interest in the brilliant prospects of this year's grid machine is attested by the crowd of spectators out every night for practice to see the big squad of huskies, most of them new to local eyes; and also by the pace at which season tickets have been moving. A check up yesterday showed that 72 of the season books have been purchased by local fans, and a number of others have indicated their intention of buying a book before the curtain rises next Sunday at Russell Field.

Among the ones who have bought one or more books of season tickets, and who will be found every Sunday in choice reserved seats near the fifty yard line are the following: Beyer Africa, Dr. E. S. Africa, Dean Anderson, Melbourne Anderson, Nick Anderson, Tom Armstrong, Harold Baker, Stewart Beckley, Jim Bell, Kenneth Bjers, John Blair, Lester Blair, Robert Bloom, Edwin Borden, Homer Bowersox, Edward Branch, George Calderwood, Harry Danas, Raymond Elliott, Dr. Russell Elliott, Holger Elmquist, Creed Erickson, John Fenstermacher, Ray Futz, Geracimos Company, Dr. Robert Gerrety, Allen Gibson, Eddie Henderson, Allan Jackson, Paddy Jackson, Harry Johnson, Emmons Jones, Howard Kay, Melvin Keller, Ben Kinnear, Clyde Knapp, DeVere Kirberger, Dr. T. K. Larson, Virgil Lesser, Edwin Ley, Harry Logan, Orrin Loper, Don McComas, Neil MacDonald, Earnest Miller, Harold M. Miller, William Muir, New York Restaurant, Victor Offerle, Herbert Onions, Arthur Peterson, H. B. Pettit, Plumer Printz, Bob Ritchie, Albert Rockwell, Savoy Cafe, Gene Scalise, Dr. F. G. Schuler, Sam Sherman, Donald C. Smith, C. P. Spiridon, Ray Steber, Raymond Stein, John Trevenen, Emmons Wade, Edward Walker, John Waples, Leonard Whiteshot and Charles Young.

With the prospects of a banner team and the financial start from the highly successful sale of seaso tickets, everything points toward a very fine season.

City League bowlers are getting ready for their organization meeting at the Arcade Alleys at eight o'clock tomorrow night, it was stated today by Thad Lawson. At least eight teams are expected to be represented and maybe the loop will see ten this year.

Sports Round-up

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 9—(The Special News Service)—Dope book on the National League race shows that in 25 years no club has clinched the pennant before September 18, and in 1934 the Cards won on the final day after being seven games behind on September 6. . . . So that series out in St. Loo won't settle everything. . . Eddie Arcaro comes up before the Jockey Club for sentence tomorrow and lots of folks are wondering what they'll decide really happened in the Hopeful. . . Eddie's story is that he and Johnny Longden tried to go through a hole just big enough for one hoss and Arcaro got there first. Another yarn is that he's ready to retire anyway and doesn't care if they do advance the date on him. . . . But the track regulars just say, "You oughta seen him in Florida." . . . Ace Parker won't play for the football Dodgers against the Bears tonight. His bum ankle is coming along all right, but Jock Sutherland doesn't want to take any chances with it in an exhibition. . . . Look for the football powers to announce a change in that unlimited substitution rule within the next couple of days.

Quote, Unquote

Branch Rickey (a few days ago): "If Terry Moore gets back in the lineup, it will be all over and MacPhail will be wearing sackcloth and ashes. . . . It doesn't look very good for Moore."

Rumor Market

If Gabby Hartnett believes everything he hears, he sure must be wondering where he'll land next. . . . Current stories have him (1) managing the Giants next year while Bill Terry moves to the front office, and (2) managing Jersey City. . . . The Phils haven't said anything, but the baseball writers think Doc Prothro is out and Hans Lobert will be manager next year. . . . Down in Atlanta they hear that Marty Marion, who used to play there, will be traded by the Cards to the Dodgers. . . . Louisville scribes aren't so sure that Johnny Pesky will be filling Joe Cronin's brogans next season. They think he is a year or two away. . . Local report is that it cost the Dodgers Babe Phelps' full year's pay nad a bonus to persuade him to retire so they could take on another man in his place.

Today's Guest Star

Jack Singer, N. Y. Journal-American: "Several critics attach sinister significance to the fact that the Giants are going on the road at the same time the comedians are coming back on the radio. They imply the Giants just can't stand competition."

One-Minute Sport Page

Ben Jones will ship Whirlaway to Narragansett today to run in the $525,000 special Saturday. . . Zeke Bonura hopes to be out of the army before the American Association playoffs are over. . . . "Little" Davey O'Brien, the G-man, now weighs 178 pounds, about 28 more than when he played for T. C. U. . . . J. Ham Lortner, who used to manage Max Baer and once owned Lou Nova, is in a San Francishco army hospital. . . Conny Smythe, the big horse and hackey man from Toronto, may abandon both for the duration. . . . He's hoping to get into Canada's active army. . . . Wanta buy a ball club? Gerry Nugent says you can have the Phils if yoc pay $550,000 on the line and take over some of the club's debts. . . . Old Satchel Paige, who has been pitching regularly, winter and summer, for 17 years, thinks he'll take this winter off and rest. "It isn't the pitching that tires me," says Satch. "It's this hitting, hitting, all the time hiting." . . . The six-day bike racing season opens in Monreal October 12 and Harry Mendel hopes to team up Charley Vaccino, from the U. S. Army, and Andy McConnell from the Royal Canadian Air Force if McConnell can get leave. . . . New Englanders are looking ahead to September 27 when Boston College plays at Tulane in the afternoon and Holy Cross plays at L. S. U. at night. . . . Once they've taken the ride from New Orleans to Baton Rouge they'll have something to look back on, too.

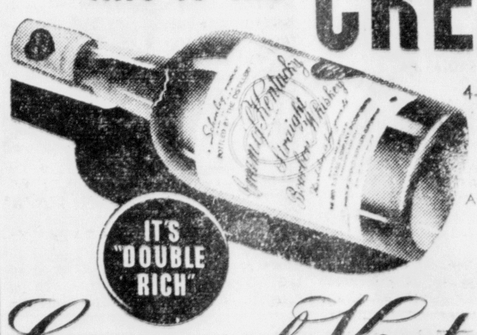

JAY COOKE NAMED MAJOR

Philadelphia, Sept. 9—(AP)—Jay Cooke, former Republican leader who quit Philadelphia politics for the army, has been promoted to the rank of major. He went on active duty with the army last January and was appointed a captain. He is now with the 111th Infantry on maneuvers in Virginia.

Willkie Scores Senator Nye at Movie Hearing

pressure it to stop producing accurate and factual pictures no Nazi-ism."

While the crowd, jam-packed into a large committee room listened intently, Nye read a long prepared statement, charging, among other things, that "four or five" movie magnates held the power to feed the American people on propaganda engendering hate against other peoples of the world. Such an attitude must be developed, Nye contended, before the United States could be brought into the war.

Gigantic Battle In Central Section Is Reported By Russia

(The German High Command said last night that Leningrad was completely encircled as a result of the fall of Schluesselburg, 21 miles east of the city on Lake Ladoga.)

Berlin, Sept. 9—(AP)—Leningrad, cut off from all land connection with the rest of Russia, is being hammered day and night by Nazi Stukas and battle planes, the German High Command reported today.

A communique from the fuehrer's headquarters said Leningrad and its 3,200,000 population with extensive defending forces was cut off with "speed divisions of the German army, excellently supported by aid force combat units, reached the Neva on a broad front east of Leningrad."

Then a single German infantry regiment stormed across the Neva river and took Schlesselburg, 21 miles east of Leningrad, the communique said.

Yesterday and last night, it was said, the German air force concentrated on Leningrad's teeming "armament and supply facilities," and also directed a night raid on Moscow.

Authorized sources said the huge water works of Leningrad was among the vital facilities hit by bombs in air force action last night.

How many Soviet troops lay within the ring of steel which the German High Command announced last night had been forged around the big industrial center at the head of the Gulf of Finland remained a matter of speculation.

It was assumed here, however, Leningrad's defenses were heavily manned and that the city was prepared to fight to the bitter end.

Solemn Requiem for Mother of the President Is Simple and Private

sages of sympathy, the grief of Franklin Delano Roosevelt was a personal thing, the tragedy of a man rather than of a chief executive.

Thus it was that he decided that the funeral services would be simple and private. They were scheduled to begin at 2 p. m. (EST) in the library of the spacious Roosevelt home, with the singing of Mrs. Roosevelt's favorite hymn, "O, Love That Wilt Not Let Me Go," by a choir of eight from St. James church.

To the rector of St. James, the Rev. Frank R. Wilson, was assigned the reading of the inspired prayers and Biblical passages which comprise the Episcopal order for the burial of the dead.

The president's mother lay in a mahogany casket in a room whose long rows of books, massive, well-used furniture, and huge fireplace spoke more of comfort than of elegance. It has been both living room and library, and in it the grandchildren romped gayly in years gone by.

Today, three of them were there with their wives for the funeral of the woman who was the "grand dame" of Hyde Park house to the countryside, but just "granny" to them. They were John, Elliott and James Roosevelt. Their mother, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, was present, too, of course, and so were other members of the family, and people from the estate.

Some of the latter had spent most of their lives on the Roosevelt acres, and the death of Mrs. Roosevelt was a personal loss for them, too.

the Soviet's back" but it was unclear here what practical results were expected to be gained.

They said Germany economically was little interested in Spitzbergen, and the British statement that the step was taken to prevent German utilization of the islands' coal mines was described as "pretty far-fetched."

Heightens Crisis In Relations

The victim of the latest attack—the second incident in less than a week—was the 5,719-ton freighter Steel Seafarer which was sent to the bottom by the bombs of an air raider, whose nationality was said to be unknown.

The crew of the ship—some 20-odd men—escaped with their lives when she went down on Sept. 7, the State Department disclosed, but this fact hardly diminished the gravity with which the news of the sinking was received here last night.

The bombing of the Steel Seafarer, coming only 72 hours after the Sept. 4 sea clash between the U. S. S. Greer and a German submarine in the North Atlantic, seemingly made a showdown inevitable with the Axis on the American interpretation of freedom of the seas.

The general expectation here was that President Roosevelt would use his address to the nation Thursday night for a forceful declaration of policy on the subject.

In some quarters the conviction was already growing that the chief executive would announce that henceforth the United States would meet force with force every time it is encountered on the oceans.

There was lively conjecture, too, as to whether the administration would act to arm merchant shipping on dangerous routes so that they could defend themselves. The navy has kept plans for such an emergency up to date since 1918, Mr. Roosevelt disclosed not long ago.

News of the Red Sea sinking was transmitted to the State Department by Alexander O. Kirk, the American minister at Cairo, Egypt. The department did not release the location where the ship went down, the circumstances of the attack, or whether the ship was en route to Egypt or returning home.

In the absence of more specific information, the assumption here was that she was a lease-lend cargo vessel—all American ships plying the Red Sea route carry lease-lend shipments, the maritime commission indicates—and that her attacker was a long-range German or Italian bomber operating from a Mediterranean base.

Berlin, Sept. 9.—(AP)—News of the sinking of the American freighter Seafarer in the Red Sea need surprise no one, authorized quarters commented today.

They said "this area has been declared a war zone by the Italians long ago."

"The area which is considered in war is one that has been carefully described," the source said. "Of course there is shooting around the Suez Canal. There are naturally Italian and German planes in that region since the Axis is attempting to cut off the Britisher from supplies there.

"Roosevelt, in connection with the Abyssinian (Ethiopian) events, said this was no longer a war area but as the reported incident shows he acted somewhat hastily."

Factions Fight for Control

Pittsburgh, Sept. 9—(AP)—Allegheny county voters displayed only lukewarm interest in voting today in the primary election despite the combination of hot weather and hot political contests.

With the exception of a few scattered districts, voting was reported light during the first hours following the opening of the polls. Interest which had been centered on the Pittsburgh mayoralty nomination fights, which involve county leadership of the Republican and Democratic parties, suddenly shifted during the day to the common pleas court campaigns.

Word circulated in political quarters that District Attorney Andrew T. Park and Arthur L. McLaughlin, Jr., a labor attorney with CIO backing, were attempting to break the front of the Democratic court slate backed by National Committeeman David L. Lawrence. Neither Park nor McLaughlin was slated.

Lawrence, however, reported that all district and ward chairman and party workers were sticking to the organization's ticket. The heaviest voting was in the precincts where Park and McLaughlin counted on picking up strength.

HEAVY BUYING IN COMMODITIES

New York, Sept. 9—(AP)—Securities markets today were overshadowed by further heavy buying in commodities.

Stocks inclined to edge forward, along with bonds, but, except for scattered issues, advances were in minor fractions. Some irregularity developed after mid-day and quotations were no better than steady near the final hour. Low-priced shares accounted for a pickup in volume. Transfers were at the rate of approximately 800,000 shares, biggest since the latter part of July.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Sept. 9—(AP)—Under the leadership of soybeans, grain futures prices again advanced sharply today in a continuation of yesterday's abrupt rise to the highest levels in about four years following a government announcement seeking increased production of foods. Opening quotations on soybeans were three to more than six cents a bushel higher.

Wheat started ⅝-¾ cents above yesterday's closing levels, September 1.19⅞, December 1.23½-¾, and then continued to advance. Corn started ⅛ to ⅝ higher, September 81¼, December 85 ¼-⅛.

LOSS OF ESPERIA IS ADMITTED IN ROME

Rome, Sept. 9—(AP)—The Italian High Command acknowledged today that a British submarine had sunk the 11,398-ton steamer Esperia in the central Mediterranean but said almost all of those aboard had been rescued by escorting warships.

(The Admiralty in London announced Saturday that the Esperia had been sunk by a British submarine off Tripoli. The announcement said the vessel which was presumed to be carrying Axis reinforcements to North Africa, was traveling with an exceptionally strong naval escort.)

The daily war bulletin also reported that British air raiders had attacked Palermo, Sicily, again last night, but said most of the bombs fell in the open sea.

PHILADELPHIANS ARE VICTIMS OF CRASHES

Philadelphia, Sept. 9—(AP)—Two men were killed yesterday in separate traffic accidents in the Philadelphia area.

Frank Monkiewicz, 19, was fatally injured when he lost control of his motorcycle, which hit a fireplug and a mail box and crashed into a group of people. An elderly man in the crowd suffered a broken leg.

Thomas Matz, 83, assistant engineer at a Norristown brewery, was killed when the car in which he was riding overturned four times south of Paoli.

KITTANNING IS SCENE OF HIGHWAY FATALITY

Kittanning, Sept. 9—(AP)—A big truck-trailer swerved from a curve at the intersection of Routes 66 and 422 in Kittanning today, plunged down an embankment and landed on the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks, killing a woman and injuring a man in the vehicle.

Coroner Charles M. Woodward said the woman had been tentatively identified from a driver's license as Miss Thearl Sherman, 32, of Chicago, although he said residents of the Chicago address advised that she lived in Boston.

The Interstate Trucking Company, operating from Toledo, Pittsburgh and Chicago, owned the truck.

Figures compiled by the Public Roads Administration show that 55.3 per cent of all travel was for business purposes. The rest, recreational and social mileage is 44.7 per cent or 128 billion miles—well under half.

Death Ends 87 Active Years for First Mother of the Land

MOTHER AND SON—For all the activities in which Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt took part right up to the end of her 87 years, her greatest interest was always her son, the President. He was her favorite topic of conversation. This informal photo was snapped at Hyde Park just a year ago, almost to the day, before her death.

A RARE POSED PORTRAIT of Mrs. Roosevelt—rare because most pictures of her were snapped by news photographers at the many civic and philanthropic functions in which she took an active role. The portrait was made at her New York City home.

A SPEAKER in behalf of many charities. Mrs. Roosevelt also did much social work so quietly that few realized its scope.

A RECENT PUBLIC APPEARANCE of the President's mother brought her to a dinner of the English Speaking Union, where she is pictured with British Ambassador Lord Halifax. Mrs. Roosevelt had many British friends, was presented at court when she was 80.

FALL VACATIONS IN THIS STATE WILL DRAW MANY

Harrisburg, Sept. 8—With the busier part of the summer season over most Pennsylvania resorts and state parks remain open the first few weeks of September to welcome post-holiday visitors.

The State Department of Commerce reports that many persons have indicated preference for early fall vacations. "With a short drive and small amount of gasoline it is possible to find enjoyable vacation facilities for week ends or longer in every section of the state," according to Mark S. James, secretary of the department.

Centrally located in Pennsylvania's eastern sector is the popular Pocono Mountain region where dozens of inns and hotels have extended their season to accommodate those seeking active recreation or restful relaxation.

State College is the hub of an area containing approximately 15 state parks and numerous tourist inns. Picnickers and campers flock to this picturesque region of the Seven Mountains easily accessible through Clearfield, Lewistown, Williamsport, Lock Haven and Lewisburg.

In the northern tier counties Wellsboro boasts of scenic Pine Creek Gorge and picnicking, camping and horseback riding facilities in nearby Harrison State Park. At Kane, west of Wellsboro on U. S. Route 6 and high on the Allegheny plateau, vacationers enjoy the crisp, enervating climate of that region.

Pennsylvania's northwestern country has 6,000 acre Cook Forest State Park, where there are cabin facilities, tenting areas and opportunities for hiking and picnicking. Cooksburg, Brookville, DuBois, Clarion, Brockway, Reynoldsville and Oil City are in close proximity to the park. South of Kane and easily reached from Warren and Titusville is Allegheny National Forest, one of the state's most scenic areas.

Southwestern Pennsylvania offers vacation pleasure in the vicinity of Uniontown where Mount Summit is a popular resort.

In the southern area there are vacation spots in and around Bedford, well-known for mineral springs. The Lincoln Highway, U. S. 30 leads into this region. Near Waynesboro and close to the Mason-Dixon line there is a resort colony, easily accessible from Chambersburg, Harrisburg, Hanover and York.

Danish Youth Visiting Here Has Thrilling Experiences As Sailor

A visitor in Warren and Jamestown for the past several days, Ragnar Anderson, 22 years old, of Wallborg, Denmark, is one youth who is not anxious to return to his native land. The reason is that if he sets foot on Danish soil while it is occupied by Germany, he will be arrested immediately and will face a prison term of from one to ten years.

The youth, just out of school where he learned to be a typesetter, started his exciting adventure in March, 1940, when the Danish merchant ship S. S. Cyril, on which he was serving as a mess boy, was transferred to the British service. It was then that the Nazis marched into Denmark and rather than remain under the swastika rule, Anderson and his comrades shipped under the British flag.

The Cyril sailed for England and arrived there April 8, 1940. The crew, including Anderson, remained at Blyth, England, for about two months and then sailed for Casablanca, Northwest Africa, where the ship arrived June 8. The ship remained there until September. In the meanwhile, Germany had taken control of France. When the ship arrived in Port Lyautey, French Morocco, the Vichy French government forces held the ship, since it was flying the English flag. Members of the crew were held as prisoners.

At that time, according to Anderson, there were fifteen Norwegian and Danish vessels in the port all flying the English flag. All were held.

Ragnar and four of his shipmates grew discontented with their enforced detainment and plotted among themselves to escape from their plight. The first time they tried it, however, they were apprehended and were thrown into prison in Port Lyautey for fifteen days. Two days after they were released, however, they again made an attempt but were again caught by the Vichy French officials. That time they were given a severe warning against further attempts. As a result of the many attempts, the French, acting under German orders, took off all the life boats from the impounded ships.

Nothing daunted, however, one of Ragnar's comrades slid over the side of the vessel Cyril about midnight last June 7 and stole a fishing dory. In the meanwhile Ragnar and three other companions had gathered together provisions and water.

In spite of the vigilant guard of French authorities against escapes, the five men managed to board their small boat with their provisions and set out for Gibraltar. There was a small sail aboard the boat, which Ragnar termed a rowboat. This aided considerably although the men had to row most of the way.

The group in the boat spent four days and nights in the sea making the estimated 200 miles to Gibraltar. On the second night, exhausted from rowing and the effects of the elements, the group put ashore in Spanish Morocco where they spent most of the night. One blessing, Ragnar reported, was that no storms were encountered but there was a heavy swell most of the time. The course was steered by compass which was aboard that boat.

When the five men landed at Gibraltar they had exhausted the last of their water and were mighty glad to put in at a friendly land.

Soon after landing, however, Anderson signed aboard a Jugoslav ship as cook and sailed off to Halifax, Nova Scotia; and from there to New York, where he arrived August 11. After some time in New York he came to Warren and Jamestown to visit his aunt, Mrs. Marie Peterson, Laurel street, this city, and his cousin, Mrs. Frank W. Carlson, Jamestown.

The youth will return to New York later this week to take berth on another ship, plying between New York and South America.

He said that while he was being detained in Port Lyautey, he was able to communicate with his parents in Denmark and from them learned, although all letters and cablegrams were censored, that Danish sailors who shipped with English vessels would face imprisonment of from one to ten years upon their return to Denmark.

"The Germans did that," Ragnar stated simply.

Questioned as to whether he would return to Denmark, Ragnar smiled and said he did not intend to in view of the situation obtaining there now.

Ragnar revealed that the day he and his comrades arrived at Gibraltar after their escape, two other small boats also arrived containing nine men in all. As a grim comic sidelight, the sailor-cook stated that one of these boats was stolen from a Vichy French government destroyer.

One of the prime reasons for the successful attempt to escape according to Ragnar was the fact that French authorities at Port Lyautey had announced that the Danish sailors would be sent back to Denmark. With prison staring them in the face, the men chose to risk the open sea and as a result escaped.

Questioned about Gibraltar and whether he had been through any bombings, Ragnar said that there had been some "fireworks" before he left but that the island was strongly fortified and enemy airplanes did not bother it much.
